Dear Mrs. Clancy,

My name is Tony and I am in Class 7D. I am writing to ask you to provide us with healthier food in the cafeteria. At the moment, it only sells things like soda and fast food. It really isn't good for students. It makes us feel tired after eating lunch. My classmate even fell asleep at his desk in math class and got in lots of trouble. It makes it so difficult for us to study.

I think the cafeteria should sell things like fruit juice and salads. They are so much better for us and will help us study better and feel healthier. I also think it should sell less fast food and soda.

Please help make the cafeteria healthier.

Sincerely,
Tony Jones

The United Nations says that all children under 18 have the right to live, be healthy and happy, and much more*, but some poor children don't have these rights. They don't have enough food, and can't go to school. So, please join us in helping poor children. We are going to do these activities next month to raise money:

- Craft Fair (May 15th – 16th). Many talented artists will be there! You'll find lots of cool things like cute stuffed animals and pretty paintings. There will also be arts and crafts workshops in the afternoons.
- Bake Sale (May 22nd – 23rd). Come buy cookies, cupcakes, pies, and more! Don't miss the cupcake decorating competition on May 23rd!

We'll use the money from these events to buy clothes, books, and toys for children. We also need volunteers to help organize the events. Please contact brendajohnson@foreverychild.org for more information.

Conversation Skill

Introducing a topic

To introduce a new topic, say:

Let's talk about (what you did to help our community).

Listen and repeat.

Past Simple with regular verbs

- We use the Past Simple to talk about an action that started and finished in the past. We often say when it happened, e.g. yesterday, last night, three days ago. We can put the time marker at the beginning or the end of a sentence.
Last month, we raised money to help the local charity.
He donated some books last weekend.
- We form questions with did and the infinitive.
Did you volunteer at a soup kitchen?
Yes, I did. / No, I didn't.
When did you volunteer at the soup kitchen?
- We form negative statements with didn't and the infinitive.
We didn't donate books. We donated clothes.

Past Simple - Spelling rules for -ed

- We form the Past Simple of regular verbs by adding -ed to the verbs.
clean → cleaned, volunteer → volunteered
- For verbs ending with -e, we add -d.
like → liked, live → lived
- For verbs ending with a consonant + y, we change y to i and add -ed.
try → tried, fry → fried
- For one-syllable verbs ending with one consonant, then one vowel and one consonant, we double the last consonant and add -ed.
plan → planned, stop → stopped

b. Fill in the blanks with the Past Simple form of the verbs in brackets.

- Last Sunday, Andy and his friends volunteered (volunteer) at the soup kitchen.
- We cleaned up (clean up) the park near our school last weekend.
- My parents raised (raise) money to help the local children's hospital two months ago.
- Last Monday, lots of students donated (donate) books and clothes they didn't use (not use) any more to poor children in their town.
- Our school collected (collect) all of the donations and sent them to poor people.
- They planted (plant) trees in the streets to make their town cleaner.

c. Look at the table and write the sentences.

When	Who	What
last month	Đức	clean up the park	✓

Subject: My vacation

Hi Dan,

Let me tell you about my vacation. I did something really different this year. I took part in a beach clean-up and it was great!

I arrived at Pebble Beach in Somerton on Tuesday morning. It was really dirty and the smell was horrible. There were plastic bags and trash everywhere so we had to clean it up. Over 150 volunteers took part. We worked for eight hours and picked up over five tonnes of trash! The beach looked amazing after we finished. Save The Beaches organized the event. It organizes at least five clean-ups every year. They are all over the country. I want to do another one next year. Would you like to come? Let me know.

See you,

Jane

Dear Aunt Ivy,

I hope you are well. Thank you for the sweater and the gift card for Christmas. Green is one of my favorite colors and the reindeer is very cute. I was going to buy a new game, but Mom won't let me. She is really annoyed because I failed some of my tests. I didn't do well in math, English, history, and biology. I'm so surprised because I studied a lot before the tests. I studied for 30 minutes every day before I played my PC games. I think I failed because the tests were more difficult this year.

One good piece of news: Dad was delighted because I passed my P.E. test. I'm not sure, but my teacher might put me on the basketball team.

Can you maybe ask Mom to let me buy a new game?

Have a great week!

James

because

We use the subordinating conjunction because to connect two clauses in a sentence. The clause beginning with because answers the question "Why?" and is used to give a reason for the other clause.

I failed my math test (Why?) because I didn't study.
I'm delighted (Why?) because I got 100% on my science test.

so and really

We use the intensifiers so and really to make adjectives stronger. We can use so to show surprise about something being more than you expect it to be.

We can use really before adjectives or some verbs to make them stronger. It is a little stronger than "very."

He's so happy because he passed his test.
Why are you so angry? I was trying to be nice!
My teacher is really annoyed because I lost my math book.
I really want to buy that computer game.

- write a paragraph about studying abroad

Writing Skill: Using subordinating conjunctions (however, although) to show contrast

Let's Talk!

In pairs: Do you know the building in the picture?
What do you think is good or bad about studying abroad?

Listening

a. Listen to a teacher giving a presentation about studying abroad. What grade do you think her class is?

1. Grade 8
2. Grade 12
3. Grade 10

b. Now, listen and answer the questions.

1. Where did the teacher study?

2. How many years did she study abroad?

3. What did she learn about?

4. What does the teacher say universities give students?

Reading

a. Read the article. Did Anna have more good or bad experiences during her time in Spain?

1. Good
2. Bad

TEEN WORLD MAGAZINE

This week, we talked to some students to find out how they feel about studying abroad.

Anna

Ohio, USA

"I just came back from my year studying in Spain. I'd like to share my experience of studying abroad. My Spanish is so much better after a year in Spain. I also met lots of interesting people. However, making friends was difficult at first. My Spanish wasn't good and no one understood me, but now I have five very good friends. Although it wasn't easy living alone, I quickly learned how to take care of myself. I got lots of help from my teachers and classmates during my time there. They showed me how to use public transportation and where to eat. I had a fantastic time in Spain!"

b. Now, read and write True or False.

1. Teen World Magazine asked teachers about studying abroad. _____
2. Studying abroad helped Anna improve her Spanish. _____
3. It was easy for her to make friends at first. _____
4. Anna's classmates helped her a lot. _____
5. Anna enjoyed her year in Spain. _____

c. In pairs: Would you like to study abroad? What problems do you think you would have?

Writing

a. Read about using conjunctions. Then, read Anna's paragraph again and underline the ideas linked with conjunctions.

Writing Skill

Using conjunctions (however, although) to show contrast

To show two ideas are different, you should use "however" and "although."

I woke up early. I missed the bus. → I woke up early. However, I missed the bus.

→ Although I woke up early, I missed the bus.*

We often use "however" and "although" when we write, but not when speaking with friends. Using conjunctions when we write helps the readers understand our ideas easily.

b. Read and circle Yes or No.

- a. I had a great time in France. However, I did get lost sometimes.
- b. I had a great time in France. I did, however, get lost sometimes.
- c. Although she had a great time, she was lonely at first.
- d. She had a great time, although she was lonely at first.

- | | |
|---|--------|
| 1. Can we use however to contrast ideas in one sentence? | Yes/No |
| 2. Do we use a comma (,) after however when it's at the start of a sentence? | Yes/No |
| 3. Do sentences a. and b. have the same meaning? | Yes/No |
| 4. Do we use although to contrast ideas in two sentences? | Yes/No |
| 5. Do we use a comma between the two ideas when although is the first word? | Yes/No |
| 6. Do we use a comma in the sentence when although is between the two ideas? | Yes/No |
| 7. Can we use however in the middle of the second sentence? | Yes/No |

c. Underline and correct the mistakes. Then, rewrite the correct sentences with however and although in your notebook.

- 1. I want to study abroad. Although, it is very expensive.
- 2. Although she could speak French. Her writing was bad.
- 3. However, he liked Italy, he was lonely.
- 4. Ben wanted to study in France however his French was bad.

Speaking

a. You just finished a year studying abroad. In pairs: Ask and answer the questions below.

- Where did you go?
- What positive experiences did you have?
- What problems did you have?
- What did you like most about it?

b. Now, talk about two positive and two negative experiences when you studied abroad. Then, fill in the table.
