We're not too good at it. It upsets my mum sometimes. My mum washes the dishes. I don't think she minds it, but she prefers to do the cooking. And my dad fixes things in the house. He's great at it and I think he loves it too.

A day in the life of my family

There are three of us at home: mum, my brother Huy and me, Mai. Huy is seventeen and he's keen on art. I'm fifteen and I love sports. We love our family and friends.

Our mum is a writer. She works at home. On a normal day, mum gets up first, takes the dog out and buys fresh rolls for breakfast. I get up second and make tea.

After that, mum wakes my brother up. He gets out of bed and asks, 'Where's my purple shirt?'. He finds his clothes (they can be anywhere), gets dressed and falls asleep again.

When we go to school, mum stays at home and writes. Huy says she has an easy job: she just lies on the sofa and writes now and then.

After school, I go for a run in the park, but not on Tuesday and Thursday, when I have acrobatics. Huy cooks dinner for all of us. He's the best cook in the family. His food can be Vietnamese, Western or totally experimental. However, recently, he has art classes until 7.00 p.m., then we get pizza from a pizzeria. Nobody wants to wash the dishes. We all say 'Why always me?', but someone always does it in the end. We all look after our dog. When I go to bed, mum sits down and types on her laptop. At the weekends, I usually go to the gym, Huy goes to museums and mum visits her friends, but we also spend time together. We watch films and TV series.

- 1 Do you, or would you like to, live with three generations of your family?
- 2 What advantages and disadvantages of having three generations living in one home?

One home, three generations

Around the world, many families live with several generations in the same house. This is because young people can't afford to move away from home. Also, the older generation lives longer now, and they want to help their children. These homes are crowded, but the generations help and support each other. So, what's it like to have grandparents, parents and children living together? We asked members of three generations of the same family.

- 2 Read the email from Nam to Holly and answer the questions.

To: holly08@zmail.com

Hi Holly,

Today I have to stay at home and help my family clean the house. I dread doing it, but my mum says it is necessary. I guess I'm fortunate because we only do it twice a month. My mum assigned me the tasks of dusting the furniture, vacuuming the floor, and washing clothes. I don't mind vacuuming the floor; in fact, I kind of like it. But washing clothes is a whole other story. I can't stand it! Also, mum doesn't make it any easier. She constantly complains that I do a terrible job at it. My sister takes the dog for a walk and does the ironing. I wish I could do that instead of washing the clothes. Oh well, you can't always get what you want. Tell me what you are doing today? Do you have any chores you have to do? Bye for now, Nam

- 1 How often does Nam help with the housework?

- 5 On the market

"I have not failed. I've just found 10,000 ways that won't work".

Thomas Alva Edison.

A The electric light, one of the everyday inventions that have great influences on our lives, was not "invented" in the traditional sense. Thomas Alva Edison was neither the first nor the only person trying to invent a light bulb. Twenty three different light bulbs were developed before Edison's. However, Edison is often known as the inventor because his version was better than the earlier versions.

B Edison was born on 11 February 1847, in Milan, Ohio. He was the youngest of seven children of Samuel and Nancy Edison. His father was a political activist from Canada, while his mother was an accomplished schoolteacher and a major influence in Edison's early life.

- 3 introducing something to buyers and encouraging them to buy more
- 4 a legal right to make or sell an invention
- 5 someone who are closely related to others as a companion, a friend or a business partner

- 6 Tell your partner five things you remember about the invention of the light bulb. You can use these following questions.

- Who invented it?
- When was it invented?
- What was the main material?
- How important was the invention?

THE LIGHT BULB

C In 1878, Thomas Edison began serious research into developing a practical lamp. Edison and his lab associates conducted thousands of experiments to develop the electric light bulb. The greatest challenge was to find a material that could serve as a long-lasting filament. By 4 November 1879, he filed a patent for an electric lamp using a carbon filament.

D This discovery marked the beginning of commercial light bulbs. In 1880, Thomas Edison's company, Edison Electric Light Company, began marketing its new product. Almost every household now owns one light bulb. The invention has put an end to humans' experience of darkness.

Cleaning the floor is always a laborious and boring task, but with the help of a robotic vacuum, things will be much more convenient. First, robotic vacuums provide humans with a much cleaner environment. Any dust, spots, and dirty marks in the house which may harm owners' health can be cleaned completely. Second, using the mobile application as a remote-control device, house owners can control the robot when they are away from home. Another advantage is that robotic vacuum cleaners are easy to store and easy to carry. A robotic vacuum is usually much smaller than a vacuum cleaner, so it can be easily stored in a closet, under a bed, or anywhere. Last but not least, robotic vacuum cleaners are cost-efficient. They are much cheaper than expensive housekeepers. The machine can be set to clean exactly as we wish, while requiring little maintenance. The only job is to replace the bag or empty the container from time to time.

One episode is never enough

I am a TV binge watcher! Of course, I don't mean traditional TV programmes – documentaries, chat shows, reality TV and the old soap operas my grandmother likes to watch. They're boring.

2 Read the article about superhero films and choose the best title.

- It's a hard life being a superhero
- Why we love superheroes
- The psychology of a superhero

A ☐

One of the most popular cinema genres of the twenty-first century so far is the superhero movie. Some people say that superhero movies are the new Westerns. Both genres have similar themes: the good guys fighting the bad guys, protecting the innocent and giving up their life for the good of others.

B ☐

When a new superhero movie comes out, it dominates the box office for weeks. The trailer for Captain America: Civil War was one of the most downloaded trailers ever and A-list actors are keen to take on superhero roles. Many superhero films have had Oscar nominations, and fan events like Comic-Con* keep fans excited about the latest blockbusters.

3 Read the article again. Match questions 1–4 with paragraphs A–C that answer the questions. There is one extra question.

- How do we know that superhero movies are popular?
- Why are superhero movies and westerns different?
- Why are superhero movies so popular?
- What are typical storylines for superhero movies?

4 Match the words in blue in the article with the definitions.

- all the most popular or famous film stars, musicians, etc. = A-list
- a book or film that is very good or successful = _____
- the place in a theatre, cinema, etc. where tickets are sold = _____
- images made using computer programs = _____
- a particular type of art, writing, music, etc. = _____
- an advertisement for a new film or television show = _____

5 In pairs. Talk about your favourite superheroes and how they solve their problems.

C ☐

First of all, there's the adventure, the action and the costumes, the great soundtracks, the special effects and computer-generated images. They're fun and entertaining, and we love the escapism. But is that enough?

You have to look deeper to find out why people love them. Superheroes have feelings. They cope with human experiences that we can relate to. In other words, they are not so different from regular people. Psychologist Mary Tavost has written books about the psychology of superheroes, and she thinks that they inspire their fans because their goals in life are similar to human goals. They want peace, justice and love, just as we do. The lives of superheroes reflect real life as we know it.

A film review

I can write a descriptive paragraph about a film.

COCO

Produced by Pixar Animation Studios in 2017 and directed by Lee Unkrich and Adrian Molina, this Oscar-winning animation is set in the village of Santa Cecilia in Mexico. 'Coco' takes the viewers on a journey to explore the Mexican folklores and traditions told by a twelve-year-old boy named Miguel. At first, Miguel borrows the guitar in Ernesto de la Cruz's local mausoleum, which leads him to the Land of the Dead. Along the way, Miguel meets Hector the skeleton. Together, they set off to find a missing ancestor. In addition to the visuals, the soundtrack is superb with easy-to-remember lyrics. Anthony Gonzalez also gives a great performance in dubbing Miguel in the film. Although the film contains funny bits, I still find myself wiping tears towards the end. For me, the word that best describes this film is 'awesome'. It's one of the best animation films that I've ever seen. In my view, it's suitable for adults and children alike.

A blog entry

- a Location
- b History of the house
- c Interior design
- d Surroundings
- e Impressions / Opinions
- f Recommendations

21 July

Last month, I visited Cần Thơ, a city located in the Mekong Delta region in the south of Việt Nam. Cần Thơ is famous for its canal network and floating markets. There are also many floating restaurants, bars and hotels. I was astonished at the beauty of the markets. It was a lovely place!

The place that I was particularly impressed is Bình Thủy ancient house which is about 5 kilometres from Cần Thơ city centre. This French-style house was built in 1870 in an area of nearly 6,000 square metres. Until now, the house restores the interior features of a house in the rural areas in the Mekong Delta region during the 20th century. This is an ideal place to explore the history of the region. With front- and backyard gardens, the house looks like a comfortable home filled with fresh air! I would recommend spending half of a day in this place. I thought it was really relaxing!

My friend, Lan, and I decided to join a program called "Clean Up Your Neighbourhood". Every Sunday, we clean up different places in our city. We first meet at 09.30 at a park or vacant lot. Some community leaders divide us into groups and give us equipment and a task. I'd like to join in the group that paints the fences. The fences used to be white, but now they are grey. We must paint them three times to make them white again. Lan usually picks up litter. She doesn't like it and prefers planting trees. But sometimes there are no trees to plant. However, they received new trees from the sponsor and the community leader let her plant them. We finish around noon and have lunch together. I am quite proud of our work. Now, the parks and lots look a lot better, and I know I helped out. Everyone should join in and improve our community.

1 In pairs, read the text. Discuss:

- 1 What are the functions of the underlined sentences in the text?
- 2 What are the four advantages of doing charity work mentioned in the text?

You can change the world

Doing charity work helps us in a number of ways. There is something special about helping others. It makes us feel better. It might come from the smile we see on someone's face who we have just helped. Doing charity work gives us opportunities to meet new people and learn new skills. The people we meet might become our good friends in the future. We can also learn new skills that can help us in our own lives. We also learn how to empathize with others from charity work. We can better understand the problems that needy people face and can help find solutions. What is probably most important about doing charity work is that it changes lives. Needy people, street children, the elderly, and people with disabilities can have better lives when we give them a little bit of our time. In short, doing charity, doing charity work benefits everyone.

VOCABULARY

Places in school • Education
• Phrasal verbs • Collocations

I can use language related to school life and school equipments.

- 1 Look at the list below and discuss your most favourite / least favourite place in school. Where do you want to spend your time the most?

classroom	corridor	gym	lab
playground	reception	library	science
school hall	school office	staff room
sports field	canteen / cafeteria

- 2 Look at the photos and read two descriptions of different school systems. Decide which text describes a school in Finland and in Japan.

School systems

- 1 Our school is quite informal – we can call our teachers by their first names. We don't move up to secondary school when we're eleven because we attend the same comprehensive school from seven to sixteen. All our classes are mixed ability. The curriculum not only includes academic subjects but also art, music and PE, with only about thirty minutes of homework every day. We're lucky that we don't have to pay tuition fees to do a degree at university.

3 Complete the sentences with the red words or phrases in the texts. Tick (✓) the sentences that are true for you.

In my school, ...

- 1 it's compulsory to wear a school uniform. ☐
- 2 students at the same level learn together. There are no _____ classes. ☐
- 3 we focus on _____. Personally, I prefer subjects like drama and PE. ☐
- 4 our English teacher gives us long lists of vocabulary to _____. ☐
- 5 the history _____ only covers the twentieth century. ☐
- 6 the _____ includes a break in the morning and a long break for lunch. ☐
- 7 I get on really well with all my _____. ☐

4 What do the underlined phrasal verbs in the text mean?

5 Compare schools in Finland and Japan with schools in your country. Use the following structures:

- This is true for me / my school...
- This isn't

Example:

In Finland, students don't move up to secondary school when they're eleven. This isn't true for our school system. We move up to secondary school when we are 12 years old.

2 English is a compulsory subject in my school. It is my favourite subject, but I can't keep up with all the homework! We have to learn lists of vocabulary by heart. At elementary school, the timetable includes earthquake practice. If there's an earthquake when children are outside, they have to line up in the playground. At the end of the day, we have to clean our classroom. Most of my classmates will go to university. In my country, 50 percent of the population are university graduates.

- 6 Tom will say it's Grace's fault if he fails his exams. ☐

- 5 Work in pairs. Add other tips to get rid of exam stress to the list in Exercise 1.

PRONUNCIATION FOCUS: SENTENCE STRESS

In a sentence, the words that carry the most meaning are often stressed. The other words are often unstressed. Study the table below.

Stressed words	Unstressed words
1 content words such as nouns (e.g., uniform, timetable, classmate), verbs (e.g., convince, exhaust, practise), adjectives (e.g., compulsory, regular, mixed), and adverbs (alone, usually, luckily)	1 pronouns (e.g., he, she, it)
2 question words (e.g., why, how often, what, who, where)	2 conjunctions (e.g., and, but, so, or)
3 negative auxiliaries (e.g., aren't, don't, isn't)	3 auxiliary verbs (e.g., can, may, will, should)
	4 articles (e.g., a, an, the)
	5 possessive adjectives (e.g., my, his, their, our)

- 6 6.05 Listen and underline the stressed words in the following sentences. Then listen again and repeat.

- 1 If there's an earthquake when children are outside, they must line up in the playground.
- 2 Students don't have to pay tuition fees to do a degree at university in Finland.
- 3 The curriculum includes academic subjects and non-academic subjects.
- 4 Why does Grace get stressed about exams?

Matching

I can identify specific details in a text about learning disorders.

1 Look at the photos and the title of the article. Discuss the questions.

- 1 What do you know about the people?
What are they famous for?
- 2 What do you think the text is about?
- 3 Which of the words and phrases in the box do you expect to see in the text?

ability animals autism dyslexia food hard work help learning disorders money strong successful support

2 Read the text and check your ideas in Exercise 1.

3 Read the text again. Match questions 1–5 with the people described in the text. Write MK for Michael Phelps, TG for Temple Grandin, and KK for Keira Knightley.

- 1 Which person had an early interest in sports? _____
- 2 Who became better at something when learning about his / her favourite subject? _____
- 3 Who changed in a positive way thanks to getting over his / her learning difficulties? _____
- 4 Who was an Olympic champion? _____
- 5 Which person got over his / her difficulties to have a job of his / her dreams? _____

4 Fill in the gaps with blue words from the reading text. Then work with a partner to complete the sentences with your own ideas.

- 1 I find it difficult to _____ when _____.
- 2 The best way of dealing with someone who _____ you is _____.
- 3 The school subject I _____ with the most is _____.
- 4 A person I know who I'd like as a _____ is _____.
- 5 I'd like to become an _____ on _____.

I find it difficult to concentrate when somebody turns the TV on too loud.

Different, not less

Many people have learning disorders. They suffer in school: other children bully them or make fun of them and call them 'slow'. However, people can get over their learning disorders and have successful careers with the help and support of family, teachers, and doctors, as these examples prove.

At school, Michael Phelps could not sit still and found it difficult to concentrate. But then he found his passion for sports. His reading improved when he read books about sports and when the problems reflected his interests. Through hard work and never missing a day's practice, Michael became an Olympic champion, winning twenty-eight medals, twenty-three of them gold.

In the world of autism, Dr Temple Grandin is an important voice. Autistic herself, she is an expert on how to teach people with autism, and she has written six books about the condition. School was difficult for her because she didn't think in the same way as other children. At school, her science teacher became her mentor. With his help and support, Grandin became interested in animal science. She later became a professor of animal science at Colorado State University.

Keira Knightley found out she had dyslexia at the age of six. She believes that her problems with reading and writing made her strong. Knightley struggled with reading and writing, but she dreamt of being an actress, so she had to read scripts. She had to work harder than other children to improve her literacy. Later she finished school with top grades.

So don't worry if you are different – you never know where your differences could lead you.

Defining relative clause and non-defining relative clauses

I can use who / that/which in basic defining relative clauses and who / which in basic non-defining relative clauses.

- 1 Read an extract from The Students' Manifestos. How is this school similar and different to your school? Discuss with a partner.

The Union of Students, which is student-led and student-focused, has published its manifestos as follows: The school that we'd like is: A school which is for everyone, with boys and girls who come from all backgrounds and abilities. It's a place where we don't compete against each other, but just do our best.

- 2 Read the GRAMMAR FOCUS. Complete the rules. Use the relative pronouns who / that / which / where.

GRAMMAR FOCUS

Defining relative clauses give essential information about someone or something. It is the information that we need in order to understand what or who is being referred to. A defining relative clause usually comes immediately after the noun it describes.

- You use who or that for people.
- You use which or that for things.
- You use where to refer to a place.

Non-defining relative clauses give extra information about the person or thing. It is not necessary information. We don't use that to introduce a non-defining relative clause.

- You use who for people.
- You use which for things.
- You use where to refer to a place.

- 3 Read The Students' Manifestos. Underline the nouns that relative pronouns 1–5 refer to. Choose the correct option for each relative pronoun.

The Students' Manifestos

We, the school students have a voice.

This is what we say.

The school that we'd like is:

A light school with huge windows ¹*that / where* let the sunshine in, but blinds ²*who / which* keep the light out when we want to watch something on a screen.

- 4 Complete these sentences with an appropriate relative pronoun.

- Blinds are like curtains which / that you use to keep the light out.
- A swipe card is a plastic card _____ works like a key and lets you in and out.
- A rigid timetable is a timetable _____ you can't change.
- The school Hall of Fame's building, _____ was built in 1883, has just been opened to the public.
- Many students in class 10B, _____ is a mixed-ability class, have chosen to take a gap year.

- 5 Work in groups. Prepare a manifesto about your ideal school. Think about:

- classrooms and study areas
- gardens and sports grounds
- equipment and technology
- school uniforms
- canteen

A flexible school without rigid timetables or exams, without compulsory homework. It's a school ³*where / who* we can follow our own interests and spend more time on the subjects ⁴*who / which* we enjoy.

A school that is for everybody, with students ⁵*which / who* come from all backgrounds and abilities. It's a place where we don't compete against each other, but just do our best.

Future time and conditional clauses

I can use conjunctions in the Present Simple with future reference.

- As soon as I _____ (get) home tonight, I _____ (change) into my hockey kit.
- I _____ (call) her when I _____ (have) a minute.
- Before I _____ (decide), I _____ (discuss) it with the rest of the team.

- 4 Read the LANGUAGE FOCUS and choose the most appropriate conjunction in sentences 1–5 below.

LANGUAGE FOCUS

Future time and conditional clauses

- When you are talking about the future, you use the present tense after the conjunctions if, when, as soon as, unless (= if not), before, and after.
After you get your own place, you'll need money to live.*
You won't pass your exams unless you do some work.
- The clause with the conjunction can come before or after the main clause. When it comes before, you need a comma to separate the two clauses.

- When / If* you want to become a mentor, you need to be an expert in the field you choose.
 - As soon as / Until* the students published their manifesto, the whole school was delighted.
 - I won't get into the school team if / unless I train hard.
 - Before / If* he became a scientist, he used to struggle with a learning disorder.
 - After / Before* the exam, you need to plan a detailed revision schedule.

The house-warming ritual is very important to the Vietnamese. According to tradition, the homeowner invites people to celebrate a new house. Traditionally, the Vietnamese believe new houses are cold and need to be warmed up with occupants. The purpose of the ritual is to bring warmth and good luck.

Guests generally bring useful gifts and offer good wishes. The host introduces the guests to the rooms, functions of each room, materials, and the design of the new house. After that, they enjoy a feast together.

THE US

In the US, new homeowners often throw a house-warming party. They invite family, friends, and new neighbours to come. The parties are held 2–3 weeks after the new owner moves in. The house should be ready and look like a nice place to live.

Generally, the homeowners send out invitations which should include the date and time of the event. However, they are careful not to invite too many guests, so people have a place to gather.

A trip to Sapa

I went on a trip to Sapa last November and had a great time. However, during the trip, I fell off a motorbike and broke my arm. Some locals took me to a nearby hospital, where I was surprised to see a young American woman working. She asked: "How did you hurt your arm?" I told her I was admiring the beautiful landscape and rainforest when I fell off my motorbike. I asked her what she was doing in a hospital in Việt Nam. She was spending a year as a volunteer at a local hospital. She wanted to learn about the village healthcare, so she came to Việt Nam.

After the doctor helped me, the American volunteer asked me where my hotel was. I told her and she arranged someone to take me there.

She told me to stay off motorbikes for a while.

VOCABULARY

Shops and services • Clothes and appearance • Collocations

I can use language related to shops and shopping experiences.

- 1 Who doesn't have enough money to buy lots of clothes?
- 2 Who avoids shopping for clothes?
- 3 Who is willing to pay more for the right kind of clothes?

SHOPPING HABITS

	MIA	RYAN	MINH
1 What do you think about shopping for clothes?	I'm addicted to clothes and shopping. The bad news is that I'm poor! So I can't afford to buy much, except during the sales. But I go window shopping – it's still fun to look. I often go to charity shops and second-hand jeweller's .	I really enjoy shopping. I love designer clothes . I mean, they're really expensive but I think they're worth it. Anyway, I want to look smart like my favourite celebrities.	My mum buys all my clothes! I don't care what I wear. I don't think you should judge people by the brands they wear. I hate clothes that have logos all over them.
2 How often do you go clothes shopping?	Oh dear, it's bad – I go every weekend. I get bored with my clothes – I can't help it.	I don't need to go shopping often because I buy good quality clothes made from nice natural materials like cotton and wool . They last for ages.	As I said, I never go shopping. I don't even know what suits me. If something fits me and it feels comfortable – like my favourite hoodie – then I'm happy.

- 1 Read the text about Fairtrade. Why is it good for farmers?

Many of the products we buy in supermarkets are grown by farmers in developing countries. But farmers aren't paid enough to make a living.

In 1997, many organisations from different countries came together and one international Fairtrade organisation was formed. So far, the lives of approximately seven million people in developing countries have been improved by Fairtrade.

READING

Multiple choice

I can identify specific information in a short text about branded products.

1 Work in pairs. Ask and answer the following questions.

- 1 Have you ever bought a brand?
- 2 If yes, what did you buy and how much was it?

2 Read the text and decide whether the writer likes branded products or not? Why?

3 Read the text again and choose the correct option for each question.

- 1 Why do people buy brands?
 - A because they like wearing branded clothes.
 - B because they like the quality of the products.
 - C because they want to show off.
 - D All the above options are correct.

A brand or a no-name product?

There are various reasons why people buy brands, but there are three main reasons. Personal preference and the wish to show off are the first and second reasons. Some people like branded goods as the brand makes them feel better about themselves. For example, they like wearing branded clothes as it gives them more confidence in life. Some teenage girls are even obsessed with brands. They believe that they look trendy and cool in branded clothes, so they often save their money for brands. Some people buy brands because they think the product looks better, and they are happy about that. Some people buy brands simply because they want others to know about their wealth.

The third reason is quality. Many people buy brands because they want to be free from worries. Branded products are often of better quality than no-name products. Information of the product is often clear and reliable. The service that comes with the product is often good. If there is any problem, the product can be replaced or repaired or the customer can receive a refund. The brand item may be expensive, but it can give you a peace of mind.

When buying things, I often consider the quality of the product, the reputation of the product, and any past experiences with the product. This makes it easier for me to decide whether to buy a brand or a no-name product.

- 2 Why are teenage girls obsessed with brands?
 - A because they have a lot of money.
 - B because they like the quality of the products.
 - C because they want to look fashionable.
 - D because their parents often buy them branded clothes.
- 3 When a branded product has problem, you can _____.
 - A ask for your money back
 - B ask for a replacement
 - C ask for another product
 - D Both A and B are correct.

4 Work in groups. Discuss the following question.

Do you think branded products are better than no-name products? Why?

I returned them to you on 5th March and you exchanged them for a new pair. Unfortunately, the second pair were the wrong model, so I emailed you again and returned them one more time. I received a third pair of headphones from you today. When I unpacked them, I found they were damaged.

I am very disappointed with your service.

Yours faithfully,

A short history of flying

The first flying machines of the human kind were kites. Kites were invented by the Chinese about 2,000 years ago and were quickly spread around the world. They were usually triangle-shaped. Then, the invention of hydrogen gas led to the invention of hot-air balloon. A fire under the balloon made the air hot. In November 1783, two men flew a hot-air balloon in France for about 8 km. But people wanted to fly like a bird, so they made gliders – flying machines with very big wings. In the 1890s, they flew about 100 or 150 metres.

People wanted to fly a longer way, so in 1902 in America, the Wright brothers made a biplane. It had two long wings. One wing was at the top and one was under it. And a year later, they made a biplane with an engine – the Wright Flyer. Biplanes with engines flew a long way, but people needed bigger planes. This happened in the 1950s. The British, Russians and Americans made planes for many people. They had big engines in or under the wings and they flew a very long way.

- 3 Read the text again. Choose true (T) or false (F).

The Vietnam Museum Of Ethnology

If you visit the Vietnam Museum of Ethnology in Cầu Giấy District, Hà Nội, Việt Nam, here are the top three things you should do:

1 Watch a water puppet show

Water puppetry has been a unique form of art in Vietnamese culture. Puppets are made of wood and controlled by puppeteers. At the Vietnam Museum of Ethnology, water puppet shows are held regularly to serve the visitors of the museum. The content of the shows often reflect the daily activities and spiritual life of Vietnamese people. Whether you are local or foreign tourists, you will definitely feel amazed at the skills of the puppeteers standing in the pool behind the scene. You will also love the meaningful folktale stories told by the puppets.

2 Listen to Quan Họ Bắc Ninh Folk Songs

Quan Họ Bắc Ninh Folk Songs are traditional forms of art performed by couples of men and women. The main theme is about love or friendship. At the Vietnam Museum of Ethnology, there are singing sessions for visitors who want to have a taste in Vietnamese traditional music. You can interact with the singers in the show too!

3 Learn about Vietnamese folk games

Many folk games of ethnic groups in Việt Nam are on display at the museum. You can see games such as throwing cotton ball game (ném còn) and swaying back and forth game (đánh đu) and learn more about how ethnic people in Việt Nam entertain on special occasions. If you love Vietnamese culture and visit the museum, you cannot miss this opportunity!

Taking part in these activities, you will find the Vietnam Museum of Ethnology really worth the visit.

Hà Giang is a province in the northeast region of Việt Nam. It is famous for its breath-taking views of rocky mountains and impressive limestone. The weather is pleasant and warm from April to June, but it can be very hot with regular monsoons in July and August.

Located in Lũng Cẩm Village, Đồng Văn District, Hà Giang Province, an old house of a local H'mông family was chosen for the background of the film "The Story of Pao" in 2006. This explains why the house is now known as "Pao's House" to many tourists visiting this land.

From afar, the two-floor house looks extremely stunning. It is surrounded by beautiful wild flowers and a cherry blossom tree at the gate. The house was made of soil walls, while its roof is covered with brown and black tiles. Guests can enter the house with wooden ladders in the front. There is a small stone-paved yard connecting the three parts of the house.

The house has many rooms including a living room, a kitchen, a warehouse, and a barn. Tourists can feel the warmth as they see many photos of the family members on the walls. Beds are placed near a stove and decorated with colorful wraps, which also makes tourists feel at home.

Pao's House in particular and Hà Giang Province in general have become memorable tourist spots because of their amazing beauty and charm.

1 Work in pairs. Tell two things you know about Hà Giang Province to your partner.

FAMOUS AUTHORS

Alan Alexander Milne

was born in 1882 in London, England. He wrote stories about a teddy called Winnie-the-Pooh in the 1920s. His son Christopher and his son's soft toys gave him the idea for the characters: Christopher Robin, Piglet, Kanga, Roo and others. Milne's Pooh stories: Winnie-the-Pooh and The House at Pooh Corner quickly became children's classics in the UK and other countries. In 1927, A. A. Milne published Now We Are Six - a book of poems. After A. A. Milne died, a film studio bought the rights to the stories, so today there are picture books, films, and cartoon series about Pooh Bear.

Frances Hodgson Burnett

wrote the well-known books Little Lord Fauntleroy, A Little Princess and The Secret Garden between 1885 and 1911. She was born in Manchester, England in 1849, but she lived in America most of the time and she published her first stories in American magazines. The illustrations of Little Lord Fauntleroy's suit and white shirt started a fashion for boys. Today her first books aren't as popular as they were 100 years ago, but The Secret Garden is still a best-seller.

Roald Dahl

was born in 1916 in Cardiff, Wales, but his parents were from Norway. He disliked school because some teachers were unkind. He probably remembered this in his books as his good characters are children and his bad characters are often adults. His most well-known books are James and the Giant Peach, Charlie and the Chocolate Factory, and Matilda. Roald Dahl often worked with a well-known British illustrator, Quentin Blake.
