Friends

I can talk about friends and friendship.

Tell us what you think is important in a best friend.

JACKO Well, I hope to be supported by a best friend when I have a problem and I expect them to spend time listening to me. I also don't want to have to apologise for being me!

QUEEN I agree. A good friend shouldn't mind putting up with the bad side of my personality. They should also be honest and warn me against doing things they don't think are good. And they should advise me to do things they think are good, even if I decide not to do them!

MATE365 Good points. A best friend doesn't choose to be your friend only when things are going well. They should always be there when you need them!

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Read the forum posts and discuss the opinions. Do you agree with them? Think of two more things that are important in a best friend.

2 Match the highlighted verbs in the forum posts with the verb patterns below.

- 1 verb + -ing form
- 2 verb + infinitive
- 3 verb + object + infinitive
- 4 verb + object + preposition + -ing form
- 5 verb + preposition + -ing form

3 Choose the correct form to complete the sentences.

- 1 Jack admitted to copy / copying the test.
- 2 Amy hopes to study / studying medicine.
- 3 We really enjoyed to visit / visiting the exhibition together.
- 4 I agreed to go / going to help him with his homework.
- 5 Mark encouraged me to apply / applying for the summer job.
- 6 They praised him for to volunteer / volunteering.

4 Complete the dialogue with the correct form of the verbs below.

accuse apologise ask insist remind think

Max Hi, Lily. You look a bit anxious. What's the matter?

Lily Well, I was ¹ _____ of going to Amy's, but she's just texted me to say she's busy all weekend. I think she's angry with me.

Max Why? I thought you were good friends.

Lily We are, but she ² _____ me to go out with her last Saturday and I ³ _____ her about Monday's maths exam and said we should stay in and study.

Max That seems reasonable. So what's the problem?

Lily Well, she ⁴ _____ on going out and of course she didn't study. She didn't do well in the exam and now she's ⁵ _____ me of being a bad friend because I didn't stop her from going out!

Max That's really unfair! She should be ashamed of herself. In my opinion, she should ⁶ _____ for being so unreasonable!

5 Find adjectives in the dialogue that correspond with these nouns: anger, anxiety, shame.

Jessica Yes, I've noticed that ²he never takes an interest in other people. Are you going to do anything about it?

Andy What can I do? ³That's the personality he's got.

Jessica ⁴Next time you see him, tell him that it annoys you. I'll tell him if you want because it irritates me too!

Andy Perhaps I should, because ⁵his attitude is really putting me off him. If he can't change his behaviour, then I don't see how we can stay friends. ⁶Our first lesson tomorrow is English. I'll speak to him then.

Jessica Good idea. If he's really a good friend, he won't get angry.

They might be offended if you say that.
- We can use by to say who performed the action.
We were warned by the teacher about the test.

- 6 1.06 Listen to five dialogues. Choose a verb from exercise 5 and write down what is happening in each dialogue. Use the passive.

In dialogue 1, a man is being teased.

- 7 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Use verbs from exercise 5 to ask and answer questions about things that have happened to you.

When was the last time you were told off at home?

When was the last time that you were praised at school?

Negative structures

I can use negative structures.

- 1 Read the text. Which is the best piece of advice, in your opinion? Do you disagree with any of the advice?

How to talk to teens - a parents' guide

Wouldn't it be great if parents and their teenagers got on all the time? Post your best advice for parents below.

Be calm and reasonable and treat me like an adult. Under no circumstances should you speak to me as if I'm still a small child. THAI AN, HA NOI

Not only should you avoid speaking down to me, you should also notice when I do things that are good! PETE, DEVON

Surely, part of being a teenager is being allowed to make mistakes. So it's not a good idea to tell me off every time I get something wrong! ARI, SEOUL

If you're worried about me, just talk to me – calmly! On no account should you get angry. I'm not likely to want to confide in you if you're shouting! TOM, LONDON

Rarely do teens and their parents agree all the time, but you can still get on well even if you don't always see eye to eye. The best advice to parents? Try not to argue! You may regret not being patient!

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Which negative adverbials can you find in exercise 1?

LEARN THIS! Negative adverbials

We can use these negative adverbials to make emphatic negative statements:

never, nowhere, rarely, hardly, in no way, at no time, on no account, only (if / when / once), not until, under no circumstances, not only ... also, no sooner ... than.

If we use them at the beginning of a sentence, the subject-verb word order changes – they are usually followed by an auxiliary verb.

Rarely do friends get along all the time.

➔ Grammar Builder 1.1 page 116

- 3 Write the sentences with the correct form of the words in brackets.

- 1 No sooner (we / eat) dinner than he got up and left.
- 2 Only once (I / break) a promise in my whole life.
- 3 At no time (anyone / explain) what had happened.
- 4 Never before (she / meet) a more disagreeable man.
- 5 In no way (he / trust) you in the future after all your lies.

- 4 Rewrite the sentences using inversion.

- 1 We've never faced such a serious problem.
Never have we faced such a serious problem.
- 2 We couldn't find a coffee shop open anywhere.
- 3 I had hardly woken up when my mobile rang.
- 4 They weren't aware of the danger at any time.
- 5 There won't be any more festivals until next year.

LEARN THIS! Negative questions, infinitives and -ing forms

We can use negative questions to ask for confirmation of something we think is true or not true.

Didn't you go out with Tom yesterday?

We can also use negative questions to express our opinions politely.

Wouldn't it be better to tell her the truth?

We usually form negative infinitives and -ing forms by putting not or never before them.

I was lucky not to miss the train.

She regrets never telling him the truth.

- 5 Read the Learn this! box. Find examples of negative questions and negative infinitives and -ing forms in exercise 1.

- 6 Write the words in the correct order to make sentences.

- 1 to / not / I'll / late / tomorrow / be / try
- 2 be / the / shouldn't / test / for / Aidan / studying / ?
- 3 honest / not / with / I / being / him / resent / me
- 4 not / upset / was / Kat / invited / be / to
- 5 about / should / you / argue / try / to / not / it

- 3 Don't worry about the future. (Try)
- 4 Luckily she didn't hurt herself badly. (She was)
- 5 They won't decide until they know the facts. (Only when)

Sibling rivalry

I can understand a discussion about sibling rivalry.

- 1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. What do you understand by the term 'sibling rivalry'? Why do you think it can happen?
- Read the text and compare your ideas from exercise 1.

Listening Strategy

Remember that spoken English can sound quite different from written language. In fast speech, fluent speakers often shorten or omit certain elements.

It is possible to train yourself to understand fast speech. You do not need to imitate fast speakers, but focus on trying to understand what they are talking about.

- 1.07 Read the Listening Strategy. Then listen and write down the sentences you hear.

- _____
- _____
- _____
- _____

- 1.07 Read the Pronunciation box. Listen again and repeat the examples.

PRONUNCIATION Features of fast speech (linking, assimilation)

- Consonants are sometimes inserted between two vowel sounds:
two eggs sounds like two weggs
three eggs sounds like three yeggs four eggs sounds like four reggs
- Consonants at the end of words (especially n, d and t sounds) change when the next word also begins with a consonant:
ten pounds sounds like tem pounds band practice sounds like bam practice
Did you ... ? sounds like Dij je ... ?
- Sounds, usually consonants, sometimes disappear:
Let's go sounds like Les go
What's your name? sounds like Wos your name?

- Match each sentence you wrote down in exercise 3 with a point in the Pronunciation box.
- Read the sentences (1–6) aloud. Each contains one feature of fast speech from the Pronunciation box. Can you say where in the sentence it occurs?
 - I've got two or three dictionaries. (point 1)
 - Is this your address? (point 1)
 - I've got a bad cough. (point 2)
 - We went ten-pin bowling. (point 2)
 - She's my best friend. (point 3)
 - This coffee tastes bad. (point 3)
- 1.08 Listen, check and repeat.

Sibling rivalry

What causes sibling rivalry?

- * Each child tries to define who they are as an individual and wants to show they are separate from their sibling(s).
- * One child may feel that he / she is getting an unequal amount of parental attention.
- * Younger children may want to copy or join in with an older sibling's activities, which can annoy the older child.

What can be done about it?

- * Parents must treat their children fairly, rather than equally. Age must be taken into account.
 - * Siblings should be encouraged to co-operate with each other, not to be aggressive or competitive.
 - * Siblings need space to be on their own sometimes with their own things and their own friends.
- However, time is the great healer. Research shows that after the age of 25, siblings get on with each other much better.

- 1.09 Listen to a monologue and two dialogues. For questions (1–3), choose the correct answers (a–c).

- What has helped the girl improve her relationship with her sister?
 - Spending time with each other rather than with friends.
 - Strengthening her sister's relationship with their mother.
 - Discussing why her sister used to behave unkindly.
- What does the boy accuse his sister of lying about?
 - Whether she has taken something from his room.
 - Whether she has only just written her name on something.
 - Whether she asked permission before borrowing something.
- What do the brothers explain to the interviewer?
 - Why they didn't get on when they were younger.
 - Which brother behaved worse while growing up.
 - Why they always spoiled each other's things.

- SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss this quotation from a famous British writer. What does it say about sibling relationships? Do you agree with its message?

'It snowed last year too: I made a snowman and my brother knocked it down and I knocked my brother down and then we had tea.' Dylan Thomas

Articles and quantifiers

I can use articles and quantifiers.

Buddy movies always have two male friends, often from different backgrounds or with different personalities. They usually face a challenge together during the course of the film, and the challenge (eventually) makes their friendship stronger. They're more popular in the USA than in Europe, and can be aimed at both the old and the young. The earliest buddy movies starred Laurel and Hardy and were made in black and white around a hundred years ago. Nowadays, many are also action films, road movies or westerns – famous examples include Die Hard 3 and 22 Jump Street. In most of them, women only play a minor role, never one of the buddies. In a few films, one of the 'buddies' is an animal!

- 1 Look at the photo and the title. What is a 'buddy'? What sort of film is a 'buddy movie'? Read the text to check.
- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Complete the gaps with a / an, the or no article (–) and find examples in exercise 1.

LEARN THIS! Articles

We often use ¹ _____ when we mention something for the first time, but ² _____ when we mention it again.
 We sometimes use ³ _____ to refer to one of several similar things or people and we don't need to be more definite.
 We use ⁴ _____ for towns, cities, continents and most countries. But we do use ⁵ _____ with a few countries.
 We use ⁶ _____ when we talk about something in general.
 We use ⁷ _____ with superlatives.
 We use ⁸ _____ with an adjective to refer to everyone who has that characteristic.

- 3 Choose the correct answers to complete the sentences.

- 1 Mont Blanc is an / the tallest mountain in – / the France.
- 2 It's usually the / – poor who have a / the most problems.
- 3 He was in a / – film about the / – people with – / the superpowers.
- 4 I've got – / a cat and a / the dog. – / The dog is eighteen years old!

LEARN THIS! Quantifiers

Examples of quantifiers are: a lot of, a little, all, another, both, each, every, few, many, no, several, some, etc.

Most quantifiers can be followed by of + a determiner: Some of my favourite films are buddy movies. Just a few of these star women.

No and every can't be followed by of; instead we use none of and every one / each of.

None of the main characters are female.

After both and all, we often leave out of before determiners:

All the actors have starred in other films.

Both my parents are film fans.

We use few / little instead of a few / a little to emphasise the smallness of the number or quantity. Compare:

There are a few westerns I really like. The ones with Clint Eastwood are brilliant.

There are few westerns I really like. I just don't find the characters interesting.

Mina But I thought you two got on really well!

Bill So did I. But she started putting me down in front of her friends, and when she let me down again last night ... Well, I couldn't put up with it any more. I decided she'd put me through enough, so I split up with her.

Mina That's a shame. But you'll soon get over her. Don't let it put you off dating other girls!

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Which verbs in the dialogue are transitive and which are intransitive?

LEARN THIS! Phrasal verbs

- 1 Phrasal verbs can be transitive (they have an object) or intransitive (they don't have an object).

Can you pick me up after school?

My brother and his girlfriend broke up yesterday.

- 2 When a transitive phrasal verb is inseparable, the object comes after the particle.

He's trying to get over their break-up.

- 3 When a transitive phrasal verb is separable, the object can usually go before or after the particle.

He's decided to call their date off / call off their date.

However, when the object is a pronoun, it must come before the particle.

Do you think Ella will turn him down?

- 4 With some transitive phrasal verbs, the object must come before the particle.

Donna messed Bill about, so he finished with her.

NOT Donna messed about Bill, so he finished with her. X

I've decided to split up with my boyfriend.

Reading

Power of connection

I can understand an article about relationships.

POWER OF CONNECTION

'They tried to escape technology, to stay away from that and still have relationships with fellow humans. Very difficult.'

Arthur Miller

Chân trời Sáng tạo

1.10

Technology can exert its power on almost every aspect of our lives, and personal relationships are no exception. We are now becoming more attached to technological devices and less connected to the people around us or even our loved ones.

We work longer hours on computers, meet fewer friends, text more often, and watch more videos than have a true conversation with friends or family members. Technology enhances relationships at home and at work. Social media link us all together, but we mistake them for a perfect replacement for relationships. It is time we realised that the power of connections is built from our own efforts. Whether we choose to stay technologically or socially connected, we have to spend a considerable amount of time doing activities together, listening, understanding and sharing feelings. This helps strengthen our mind and body, keeping us away from isolation and loneliness.

It is not difficult to balance between connections through technology and those through real interactions. We can start by nurturing the relationships within our family.

We should spend more time visiting our parents and siblings, besides keeping in touch with them on social media. We should learn to cherish the moments we spend with them. It is never too late to strengthen the bonds with school friends and teachers. Don't hesitate to participate in sports clubs or a hiking trip where we can build up true friendships. And above all, remember that time commitment counts in relationships, so running short of time for connections is impossible.

1 Read the quote from Arthur Miller. What do you think he means about technology and relationships in the modern times? Can you guess what the text is about?

2 Scan the text. What is the purpose of the reading?

- a To tell the difference between technological and social bonds
- b To list all of the advantages of technology to social connections
- c To give advice on how to develop relationships in technological era

Reading Strategy

When you come across an unfamiliar word in a text, ask yourself if you need to know its meaning to do the task.

If you do, first decide what part of speech it is. Then try to work out from the context what it might mean.

3 Read the Reading Strategy. Then find the words below in the text and decide whether each one is a verb, noun, adjective, etc.

- Are his speculations about the photos similar to yours?
- What phrases from exercise 2 does he use?
- What is his overall opinion about friendships and arguments? Do you agree? Why / why not?

- 6 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Student A describes photo A, student B describes photo B. Then do the task below.

Compare the photos. Then say whether you think there are differences between girls and boys when it comes to friendships.

An opinion essay

I can write an opinion essay on the topic of friendship.

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions below.

- Who are the people you are closest to?
- What qualities do you look for in a friend?

2 Read the task and the essay. In which paragraphs does the writer cover each element of the task?

It is sometimes claimed that 'opposites attract' when it comes to friendship. Write an essay in which you give your own opinion of this view taking into consideration personality and appearance.

It is sometimes claimed that opposites attract when it comes to friendship. On the whole, I don't agree with that opinion. I think people choose like-minded friends. That extends to physical appearance – if you have similar tastes, you may appreciate similar clothes and hairstyles. Personally, I think that you may be long-term friends with someone who is on the same wavelength as you. I think opposites do attract, but those different qualities that attracted you at first can annoy you later!

My closest friend, Helen, is quite similar to me. Having said that, we do not have everything in common – in fact, the differences keep our friendship interesting. However, we share broad interests and personalities, so we can spend a lot of time together. It's in the details that we differ. For example, we love sports but support different teams. And although we're both sociable, Helen is more outgoing than me.

When it comes to appearance, a similar appearance can lead to attraction. Helen and I share style. We enjoy shopping and swapping clothes. These activities wouldn't work if we had different interests.

So, in my view, although you may be attracted to a friend who is completely opposite to you, the best kind of friend is one that you have enough in common with, so that your friendship lasts a long time.

3 Read the Learn this! box and the Writing Strategy. Then underline an example of each of the structures below in the essay.

- Contrasting clauses with but and although
- An example of another linker
- A passive form
- An example of preparatory it

LEARN THIS! Structures and features to use in essays

- Join clauses with linkers to make longer, more complex sentences.
I like him. But he can be a bit mean. → I like him, although he can be a bit mean.
- Passive structures. These can create a sense of objectivity and authority.
People often say that ... → It is often said that ...
- Preparatory it. We can use it in a cleft sentence to emphasise a particular part of a sentence.
Honesty is important. → It is honesty that is important.

Writing Strategy

Use a variety of grammatical structures and vocabulary instead of simple sentences. This will make your essay more interesting and more effective.

4 Rewrite the sentences using a structure from the Learn this! box. Start with the words in brackets.

- Online conversations are quick and easy. They are often superficial. (Although ...)
- The non-verbal aspects of conversations are really important. (It is ...)
- A lot of people believe that you only need a few close friends. (It is ...)
- People are busy. They can still keep in touch using social media. (Even if ...)

5 Read the task. Then make notes under headings (A–C) below. Include ideas from exercise 4 and your own opinions.

It is sometimes said that social media friends are not real friends. Give your own opinion of this view, commenting on the best and worst aspects of online friendships and how face-to-face interactions are different.

- Online friendships: benefits
- Online friendships: possible problems
- Face-to-face relationships: unique features

6 Write your essay (180–200 words) using your notes in exercise 5.

CHECK YOUR WORK

- Have you ...
- structured your essay?
 - used a range of more complex grammatical structures?

| 2 Vietnamese Family Day | B the second Sunday of May |
| 3 Father's Day | C June 28 th |

2 Read the text. Match the headings (1–3) with the paragraphs (A–C).

- 1 The reminder
- 2 Celebration activities
- 3 The values

1.12

A Some holidays are celebrated in honor of family members like mothers or fathers. In Viet Nam, June 28th is a day for the whole family. Although Family Day (or Vietnamese Family Day) is not an official national holiday, it is very popular and widely celebrated throughout the country. Its aim is to honour and spread traditional family values, and provide an opportunity for family members to get together, and also connect with their cultural roots.

B Viet Nam, as a nation, prides itself on preserving its core cultural ideals, with a profound emphasis on the enduring values of family loyalty and harmony. In Vietnamese culture, the family is viewed as a unit, and children are expected to demonstrate the utmost respect to their parents. Family Day was established on June 28th, 2001, by the Deputy Prime Minister as a reminder of these values.

C Various cultural activities are organised in cities all across Viet Nam. This year's celebrations are themed 'Peaceful Family, Happy Society', and include sports, cooking and singing contests. The event will also feature educational seminars on family values and parenting skills, as well as workshops on financial planning and career development. Families can participate in fun games and activities such as scavenger hunts, obstacle courses, and relay races that promote teamwork and bonding. The highlight of the day will be a concert featuring popular local artists, where families can enjoy live music performances and spend quality time together. The Family Day celebration is truly an opportunity for families to connect with each other in a meaningful way.

3 Read the text again and write True (T) or False (F) to the statements (1–5).

- 1 Vietnamese Family Day holds immense popularity and is enthusiastically observed across the nation.
- 2 The day is a great time for children all over the world to demonstrate their respect to their parents.
- 3 The most impressive event of the day is a concert given by international artists.
- 4 Family members can participate in cooking competitions.
- 5 Families can perform live on stage.

Review Unit 1

Reading

Read the text. Match sentences (A–F) with gaps (1–5). There is one extra sentence.

Identical twins

Identical twins are born when an egg divides into two, resulting in the birth of two children with identical genes.

Although many identical twins claim to know what the other is thinking, there is no evidence to suggest that this is because of special powers. ² ____ Most of us have met up with a brother or sister, or close friend, and immediately asked, 'What's wrong?' because we have unconsciously recognised, in their facial expression, that they are upset in some way. Signs we would miss in a stranger's behaviour are instantly obvious in the way those close to us act. It is hardly surprising that twins notice the way their brother or sister's facial expressions or body language gives away how they feel. Indeed, the closeness of their bond is likely to improve this ability over the years.

The media is full of stories in which a twin senses her brother or sister to be in trouble. ³ ____ Damien Croft developed a bad headache one evening and, concerned, felt the need to phone his brother to check if everything was OK. When there was no reply, he drove to his brother's home, only to find him unconscious, having had an epileptic fit and fallen from a ladder while decorating. On the face of it, his sixth sense had saved the day. ⁴ ____ Damien knew his brother was decorating, and knew that he was prone to epileptic fits. Subconsciously concerned, he had just imagined the worst-case scenario. ⁵ ____

- A In a recent, widely-reported case, for example, a young man survived a horrific fall thanks to a feeling his twin is supposed to have had.
- B We all know such twins are often very similar in appearance.
- C The fact that something awful had happened was only a coincidence.
- D In contrast, there are many other stories which can be more easily explained.
- E In truth, of course, the events might also be explained in more ordinary terms.
- F A more believable explanation is that, like any pair of people who have grown up together, they are just good at understanding the thought processes behind what their twin does.

Listening

1.14 You will hear four speakers talking about how they met their best friends. Are the sentences true or false? Write T or F. You will hear the recording twice.

6 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Read the situations from the It drives me crazy! list. Which ones irritate you the most? Add three things to the list.

7 1.15 Listen to four speakers and answer the questions.

- 1 What gets on Speaker 1's nerves?
- 2 What makes Speaker 2 blow her top?
- 3 Why was Speaker 3 over the moon?
- 4 What is Speaker 4 in two minds about?

RECYCLE! Present continuous

We use the present continuous:

a to talk about something happening around now.

I'm watching a film.

b to describe annoying behaviour.

He's always checking his mobile phone!

c for future arrangements.

I'm visiting him this afternoon.

8 Read the Recycle! box and the sentences below. Say whether the questions refer to what is happening now, an annoying habit, or future arrangements.

Comparison

I can make comparisons.

- 1 SPEAKING Do you think you are luckier or unluckier than other people? What is the luckiest or unluckiest thing that has happened to you or someone you know?
- 2 What are the rules for forming a) short and long comparative adjectives and b) short and long superlative adjectives?

If you were Costis Mitsotakis, you might consider yourself the world's unluckiest man. Costis was the only person in his village not to buy a ticket in the Spanish Christmas lottery. When they won first prize, everyone except Costis received a share of the total prize of nearly £600 million, so he was the 'poorest / most poor' person in his village that Christmas. But there are other contenders. For example, US park ranger Roy Sullivan was even unluckier 'as / than' Costis. He was struck by lightning seven times in his lifetime – the world record! However, that's nothing like as bad as Britain's John Lyne, who is perhaps the 'most / more' unfortunate of all. At eighteen months old, he accidentally drank disinfectant and had to have his stomach pumped. And the older he got, the worse things became. He's been run over, nearly drowned and had a car crash. John's life has been more accident-filled than you would think possible. But he doesn't think he's unlucky. As far as he's concerned, most of his accidents could have ended a lot more seriously, so he may actually be the world's luckiest man!

- 3 Underline the correct words to complete the text.
- 4 Read the Learn this! box. Then find examples of rules (1–3) in the text in exercise 3.

LEARN THIS! Comparative structures

- 1 We usually use more / less and (the) most / (the) least to form comparative and superlative adverbs. However, we add -er and (the) -est to some adverbs.
You should drive more carefully.
He used to drive faster. Now I drive the fastest.
- 2 We can use the following structure to show that two things change together because they are connected:
The longer he lives, the crazier things get.
The harder I tried, the better my life became.
- 3 Comparatives often have a clause after than:
She's more upbeat than she used to be.
He's less unhappy than I imagined.
John swam further than he intended to.

➔ Grammar Builder 2.1 page 118

- 5 Complete the sentences with a comparative, using the words in brackets.

 - You have just said something negative about a friend without realising the friend was right behind you.
- 2 Read the text. Which pieces of advice could be useful to each situation in exercise 1? Why? Which do you think is the best piece of advice?

WHAT TO DO IN A CRISIS

Whenever you face a stressful situation, your brain sends alarm signals to your body and causes your heart to beat faster and your muscles to tense in preparation for immediate action. However, this reaction can often prevent us from thinking clearly about the best thing to do.

A good skill you can develop is the ability to react calmly in a crisis. By being aware of your body's stress response and training yourself to ignore that initial flood of emotions, you can make decisions based on clear-headed analysis.

- 1 Remember to breathe – this is easy to forget when you are alarmed or enraged. And breathe deeply! A calmer body helps create a calmer mind.
- 2 Focus on the moment – don't think about what should have been done differently. Concentrate on solving the immediate problem.
- 3 Think positively – positive self-talk in a crisis is often helpful. For example, telling yourself how brave you are can help you overcome your fear.

Listening Strategy

When you listen, pay attention to the words that the speaker emphasises. Usually, a speaker uses emphasis:

- to highlight new or important information, for example: I've lost my bag. It's a cotton bag, with stripes.
- to contrast two alternatives, for example: Was it black or brown?
- to contradict what someone else has said, for example: Well, that's not my bag.

- 3 1.16 Read the Listening Strategy. Then listen to five dialogues. Which words are emphasised in each? Which reason (1–3) is it?

- 4 Look at the lines of dialogues. Decide where the emphasis should go and why.

- Do you want to call the police or the fire brigade?
- A Do you live at number 7 Duncan Drive?
B No, I live at number 11.
- Are those the burglar's fingerprints or mine?
- I can't find my ring. It's a diamond ring, and it's very expensive.
- A You say you left the house at quarter to eight?
B No, it was quarter past eight.
- I saw a van outside. A blue van. A dark blue van.

My best friend's started hanging out with people who are two or three years older than we are. I didn't mind at first, but now he's going to a concert with them after he'd said he'd go with me. He can't have forgotten – in fact, I'm sure he's done it on purpose. He hasn't got anything in common with them and he's recently been going to places where he's under age. BRIGHTER AND SAFER

1.19

A Dr Melissa Bateson, a psychologist from Newcastle University, secretly conducted an experiment to see if she could change her colleagues' behaviour when it came to paying for their hot drinks. The teachers were expected to put money in a box in the staff room, but nobody controlled how much money each teacher gave. Dr Bateson put a large picture of some flowers on the wall behind the box for a few weeks and then replaced it with one of a picture of a pair of human eyes. At the end of the experiment, Dr Bateson found that teachers paid almost three times more for their drinks when the picture of the eyes was on the wall. She concluded that we are programmed to respond to eyes, even pictures of eyes, and believed that her posters could help combat crime.

B During the 1960s and '70s, industrialised countries suffered an incredible crime wave, and violent crimes such as muggings increased at an alarming rate. What is more, it was expected to get worse. Only it didn't. Instead, it got much, much better. In the 1990s, crime started to fall dramatically, and today it is down by almost 50% across the industrialised world and continues to fall. Triumphant politicians will assert that their policies have cut crime. Actually, regardless of the country's policies, the trend does coincide with the use and subsequent prohibition of tetraethyl lead in petrol, which has been known for years as a cause of aggressive behaviour. Therefore, countries that still use leaded petrol are being urged to stop using it to help improve health and crime prevention.

C After the installation of blue-light street lamps in Buchanan Street, the main shopping centre of Glasgow (Scotland), the local police felt that thieves were committing fewer crimes in Buchanan Street. Statistics proved that the number of recorded crimes had fallen – especially petty crimes such as pickpocketing and bag snatching. Some psychologists claim that blue is a calming colour and reduces people's levels of stress and aggression. Whatever the reason, it seems that blue lighting does deter crime and it has created interest abroad. Many neighbourhoods in Japan have adopted the change and seen crime fall at a similar rate as in Glasgow.

6 Replace the underlined words with some collocations from exercise 5.

- We must stop them from doing something illegal.
- Police officers offered advice on ways of stopping crimes from happening.
- There was a sudden increase in the number of crimes in Birmingham last month.
- There were fewer rapes and murders last year.
- All the data on documented criminal activity is available to the public.
- The threat of long prison sentences doesn't prevent people from doing things they shouldn't.

8 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Decide if you agree or disagree with the statement below. Think of three points to support your position.

We should have more security cameras in cities as they help to prevent crime.

In favour	Against
They help reduce crime.	They spy on innocent people.

9 SPEAKING Use the phrases below to debate the statement in exercise 8 with another pair. Do you still have the same opinion at the end of the debate?

To begin with, ...
The main thing we need to discuss is ...
The problem with your point is ...
Surely you see that ...

Role-play

I can use diplomatic language in a discussion.

- 1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Read the task. Are you good at sharing a living space with other people? Why? / Why not? What problems can there be?

While studying in Britain, you are sharing a flat with another student. You are having problems with your flatmate because he / she sometimes leaves the flat untidy and dirty. Talk with your flatmate and agree on some rules for a cleaning rota.

Speaking Strategy

It is important to interact appropriately with the person you are speaking to.

- Listen carefully to what the other person is saying and show interest. Use structures like Oh dear ..., Oh, I'm sorry ..., I didn't realise ..., etc. to empathise with the other person.
- Use tag questions like ... don't you?, ... isn't it?, ... are you?, etc. to elicit agreement from the other person. Remember, we use affirmative tags after negative verbs, and vice versa.

- 2 Read the Speaking Strategy above. Add the question tags. Then read the Pronunciation box and practise saying the tags.

- 1 The flat's great, _____?
- 2 You don't really like cleaning, _____?
- 3 You leave a lot of clothes on the floor, _____?
- 4 The cooker can get quite dirty, _____?
- 5 I'm probably more organised than you, _____?

PRONUNCIATION Question tag intonation

Rising intonation on the tag indicates a genuine question; the speaker isn't sure that the statement is correct and requires an answer from the listener.

You like it, don't you? (= Do you like it?)

Falling intonation on the question tag gives the impression that the statement is correct.

You like it, don't you? (= I think you like it.)

- 7 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Taking it in turns to be the difficult flatmate. Follow the advice in the Speaking Strategy. Try to be diplomatic and resolve the issues.

While studying in Britain, you are sharing a flat with another student. You are having problems with your flatmate because he / she has a lot of visitors and makes quite a lot of noise. Talk with your flatmate and agree on some rules for visitors and noise levels.

A for and against essay

I can discuss both sides of a topic.

There are many internet forums and chat rooms for young people where they can discuss their personal problems with their peers. There are both advantages and disadvantages to looking for solutions in this way.

The first advantage of the internet is the huge amount of information on it. You can find an answer to any question you have, provided that you search correctly. And no one can deny that chat rooms can be very supportive and can help you to feel better. Even if you feel you are the only person with your particular problem, you will soon realise that there is always someone else who feels the same way.

So are there any disadvantages to using the internet in this way? Although it is true that there is a lot of information online, we should also remember that it is not always accurate. Moreover, teenagers in chat rooms are not necessarily the best judges of a situation. Even if you get advice, it may not be the most helpful advice you could receive. Finally, the internet is impersonal. People who you chat to online don't know you well, so they won't understand your particular situation.

In conclusion, even though the internet can be helpful when you have a problem, I don't think it is a substitute for speaking to the people in your life who know and care about you. Young people shouldn't forget to talk to the people that they have a real relationship with.

- 1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. If you needed advice for a problem, what would you do? Discuss the options below.

go to an online forum speak to a family member speak to a friend speak to a teacher / other adult

- 2 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Read the task. Decide on an argument for and an argument against the topic.

Young people are increasingly looking online for solutions to their personal problems. Write an essay in which you offer arguments for and against using the internet in this way.

- 3 Read the essay. Do you agree with the conclusion? Why? / Why not?

- 4 Read the Writing Strategy. Then read and compare the structure in the essay. Are either of your views from exercise 2 expressed by the writer?

Writing Strategy

When you write an essay, you need to ensure that it has a clear structure.

Paragraph 1: Introduction (stating the issue)

Paragraph 2: Arguments for the statement

Paragraph 3: Arguments against the statement

Paragraph 4: Summary, your own opinion

- 5 KEY PHRASES Look at the phrases below. Which ones are included in the essay?

Introducing one side of the argument

The first / second advantage ...

It can be argued that ...

No one can deny that ...

On the one hand, ...

It is also true that ...

Furthermore, ... / Moreover, ...

Introducing the other side of the argument

However, ...

- 6 Read the Learn this! box. Then find examples of the rules in the essay.

even though and even if

- 1 Even though expresses a fact, something real. It means 'despite the fact that ...'

- 2 Even if refers to an imaginary situation. It means 'despite the possibility that ...'

Even if John won the lottery, he wouldn't buy a bigger house.

- 7 Read the task below. Make notes of some advantages and disadvantages.

Because of mobile phones, young people can usually contact a parent if they have a problem. Write an essay in which you present the advantages and disadvantages of always being in contact.

1.22

On a stormy night in 1707, four ships struck rocks off the south coast of England and sank. One thousand, four hundred sailors were drowned. The ships had crashed because they had no way of knowing how far they had travelled in a particular direction; they could not calculate their longitude, which required accurate time measurement. It was the most serious in a series of accidents at sea, and a stunned British government decided to act. In such difficult circumstances, they believed that the best response to the disaster was a competition: the Longitude Prize.

The Longitude Prize was no ordinary competition. To win it, someone had to find a way of calculating how far a ship had travelled east or west from its point of departure. Geniuses such as Sir Isaac Newton had failed to find a solution, so to ensure the interest of Britain's greatest scientific minds, the government offered a prize of £20,000 – the equivalent of £2.6 million in today's money. But to everyone's surprise, it wasn't a famous academic who solved the problem, but an unknown carpenter.

When John Harrison wasn't working with wood, he was making clocks. An accurate clock would allow sailors to calculate their position, but at the time it was thought impossible to create a mechanical clock that could work on a ship. The movement of the sea and the changes in temperature destroyed the delicate parts. However, after three frustrated attempts, Harrison's fourth sea clock, H4, finally triumphed. Its mechanics were so good that the H4 worked better than most clocks on land.

The Longitude Prize and Harrison's success generated a lot of interest in the 18th century, but it was soon forgotten. However, in 2013, the British government created a new Longitude Prize, offering £10 million to the person who could solve a great challenge to humanity. An enthralled public then took part in a TV programme where viewers chose one challenge from a list of six for scientists to focus on. The question now is, will someone be able to solve it just as well as Harrison solved the challenge presented to him?

- 7 SPEAKING Work in pairs. What important problem in the world would you add to the list in exercise 4?

- 4 World health organisations are worried that antibiotics
 - a endanger people's lives.
 - b are less successful.
 - c have become unnecessary.
- 5 If nobody wins the challenge, in the future, doctors may not be able to
 - a carry out some types of surgery.
 - b treat patients for certain illnesses.
 - c work in hospitals.

Review Unit 2

Reading

Read the extract from a story. Circle the correct answers (A–D).

The Pennine Way is a 469-kilometre walking path which runs from the Peak District in Derbyshire to just inside the Scottish border. Other trails go further, but it is known as the most challenging. Some people see this trail as an opportunity to take a pleasant day's hike on a small section of the route, but eighteen-year-old David Lemming saw it as a challenge. 'I'd come across a great account of hiking the whole trail, written a few years ago, and I was determined to do it myself. I didn't feel anxious – I was just excited to get going.'

Things went perfectly for the first week. David was really enjoying the experience. Since many people use the trail, he was constantly meeting fellow hikers, so he never felt isolated. 'But then it got really stormy,' he says, 'so a lot of people gave up. I could go for hours without seeing anyone at all. But as long as I had my mobile, I wasn't really worried about anything bad happening.'

Unfortunately, something bad did happen. During a particularly heavy rain storm, David slipped in the mud and fell about ten metres down the hill. 'I realised I'd broken my arm immediately. Then I found that my mobile had fallen out of my pocket. And when I tried to get up to look for it, I couldn't stand up at all. My leg was injured too.'

All he could do was to shout for help. 'I yelled until my throat was sore,' he says. 'And nothing happened. But then I saw a head at the top of the hill – someone had heard me. A man came down, saw the state I was in and called for help. And really, that was the most amazing part of the whole experience. At the hospital, even the doctors were impressed at how much of the trail I'd covered. I felt really proud.'

You mustn't disregard local laws and regulations. Make sure to abide by them.

Ali and Baba grew up together as childhood playmates just like Hassan and I grew up a generation later. Baba was always telling us about their mischiefs he and Ali used to cause. But in none of his stories did Baba ever refer to Ali as his friend.

The curious thing was, I never thought of Hassan and me as friends either. ¹ Never mind that we taught each other to ride a bicycle with no hands, or to build a fully functional homemade camera out of a cardboard box. Never mind that we spent entire winters flying kites, running kites. Never mind that to me, the face of Afghanistan is that of a boy with a thin-boned frame, a shaved head, and low-set ears, a boy with a Chinese doll face perpetually lit by a harelippped smile.

Never mind any of those things. ² Neither is religion. In the end, I was a Pashtun and he was a Hazara, I was Sunni and he was Shi'a, and nothing was ever going to change that. Nothing.

We saw our first Western together, Rio Bravo with John Wayne, at the Cinema Park. I remember begging Baba to take us to Iran so we could meet John Wayne. Baba burst out in gales of his deep-throated laughter and then explained to us the concept of voice dubbing. ³ John Wayne didn't really speak Farsi and he wasn't Iranian! He was American, just like the friendly, long-haired men and women we always saw hanging around in Kabul, dressed in their tattered, brightly colored shirts.

During the school year, we had a daily routine. By the time I dragged myself out of bed and lumbered to the bathroom, Hassan had already washed up, prayed the morning namaz with Ali, and prepared my breakfast. While I ate and complained about homework, Hassan made my bed, polished my shoes, ironed my outfit for the day, packed my books and pencils. ⁴

A blog post

I can write a blog post.

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- Which local festivals happen in your area?
- What happens there? Do you go to any?

2 Read the task and find the two elements that you are required to include in your blog post.

Your local newspaper published an article suggesting that a local festival should no longer take place. Write a blog post outlining the advantages of the festival and describing a personal experience of it.

Writing Strategy

Make a plan for your blog post so you allow enough space to include every element from the task instructions. Remember to include a good introduction and a summary.

- Read the Writing Strategy and the blog post. In which paragraphs (1–4) does the writer cover the two elements from the task? How well does the writer follow the advice in the strategy?
- Read the Learn this! box. Then find an example of each of the structures in the blog post.

LEARN THIS! Sequencing clauses for describing past events

- For an action which comes before another action:
having + past participle
 Having played football, they went home.
after + -ing
 After playing football, they went home.
- For two actions which happen at the same time:
 a present participle
 Travelling home, they met Mary.
as + past simple
 As they travelled home, they met Mary.
 Note: the subject of the participle clause must be the same as the subject of the main clause.
 NOT After leaving the cinema, it started to rain. ✗

SAVE OUR FESTIVAL!

- I was very surprised to read an article in my local newspaper suggesting that the Kingsbridge Festival should no longer take place. The article suggested that the festival costs the council too much money and causes too much disruption to traffic in the town centre. I'd like to outline some arguments against this view.
- I strongly disagree with the suggestion that there is no value in continuing the festival. Firstly, it has become a local tradition. Kingsbridge has held an annual food and music festival for more than ten years. Secondly, local producers and caterers can sell their food and drink there. And thirdly, after eating and drinking, visitors can stay to watch local musicians showcase their talents.
- Last year's festival was a memorable experience. As families crowded around the food stalls, the music played non-stop. There was a lovely, friendly atmosphere until night fell. Having arrived later to hear the bands play, the local teenagers just mixed in with everybody else. Looking around, I could see young people, old people and parents with children on their shoulders, all dancing to the music.
- In my view, festivals like this are good for local trade and advertising. They are also invaluable for bringing and keeping communities together. How can you put a price on that?

5 In your notebook, join the sentences, beginning with the words in brackets.

- I arrived at the airport. I checked in. (After ... / Having ...)
 After arriving at the airport, I checked in.
 Having arrived at the airport, I checked in.
- We lay in the sun. We read magazines. (As ... / Lying ...)
- The band played. The sun came out. (As ...)
- They swam. They wrote postcards. (After ... / Having ...)
- You watched the film. You fell asleep. (As ... / Watching ...)

6 Read the task below. Then make some notes for a) the advantages and b) your description.

The local newspaper published an article suggesting that schools should no longer have a long holiday over the summer. Write a blog post outlining the benefits of summer holidays and describing a long summer holiday you have enjoyed.

- SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss ideas for each paragraph and compare the notes you made in exercise 6.
- In your notebook, write your blog post (180–200 words).

CHECK YOUR WORK

Have you ...

- written equally about both required elements?
- included sequencing clauses in your description?

Cải Lương

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. What is the theatrical form in the photo? Have you seen any performances like this live or on TV?

2 You are going to read an article about Cải Lương, a traditional Vietnamese theatrical art form. Match the headings (A–G) with paragraphs (1–5). There are two extra headings.

- A The Development of Cải Lương
- B The pioneers
- C The early days
- D A Vibrant Fusion of Arts
- E The Future of Cải Lương
- F Viet Nam's rich heritage
- G The instrumental ensemble

1 Cải Lương, a form of traditional Vietnamese theatre, emerged around the 1910s and gained popularity among the communities in the south, especially in the Mekong Delta region. In the early years, Cải Lương performances were held in makeshift theatres or open-air spaces, and the plays were often performed by itinerant troupes. Just like a Western circus, they travelled together from place to place, with their families. The children grew up under the influence of parents, aunts and uncles and became actors and actresses when they were kids.

2 Cải Lương uses a combination of music, singing, acting, and dance to depict a wide range of themes and stories. These include historical events, folklore, legends, and contemporary social issues. The performances are characterised by vibrant costumes, bold makeup, and expressive gestures. With its diverse repertoire, Cải Lương offers a reflection on Vietnamese culture, history, values, and societal concerns.

3 The distinctive music in Cải Lương is created by the combination of a variety of instruments. They include the đàn tranh, a 16-stringed zither with movable bridges, the đàn nguyệt, a two-stringed moon-shaped lute, the đàn cò, a two-stringed fiddle, and a bamboo flute. These instruments produce a melodic and unique sound that complements the storytelling and singing in Cải Lương.

3 Read the text again. Choose the correct answers (a–c).

- 1 Cải Lương
 - a has gained popularity among young audiences.
 - b offers a depiction of Vietnamese history and culture.
 - c is influenced by other Western art forms.
- 2 The children of Cải Lương performers
 - a started acting at a very young age.
 - b did not want to pursue their parents' career.
 - c enjoyed modern entertainment.
- 3 Cải Lương owes its development to
 - a the audience in southern Viet Nam.
 - b the preservation of this rich heritage.
 - c the contributions of eminent figures over the years.
- 4 There is growing concern that
 - a Cải Lương will lose its identity.
 - b younger generations will lose interest in Cải Lương.
 - c young Cải Lương performers will not be talented.

4 1.38 Listen to a radio interview. Who is being interviewed?

5 1.38 Listen again. Decide whether these statements are true or false. Write T or F.

- 1 Mai Trinh's involvement in Cải Lương began at a young age.
- 2 Her first stage performance in Phù Đổng Thiên Vương left a lasting impression on her.
- 3 Thanks to her parents, she got several significant roles, which shaped her career.
- 4 The future of Cải Lương faces challenges due to the impact of modern entertainment.

6 SPEAKING Work in groups. Research and prepare a presentation about Cải Lương. Present it to the whole class.

4 Cải Lương owes its development to numerous talented individuals who have contributed their skills and creativity over the years. Prominent figures like Bảy Nám, Phùng Há and Út Trà Ôn, together with others, played crucial roles in shaping and popularising Cải Lương. Through their dedication and artistry, they elevated Cải Lương to become a cherished cultural tradition in Viet Nam. Their contributions continue to inspire generations of performers and ensure the preservation of this rich theatrical heritage.

5 At present, Cải Lương faces concerns about its future due to the declining interest among younger generations and the influence of modern entertainment. However, efforts to raise awareness, engage new audiences, and adapt to new tastes may safeguard the sustainability of Cải Lương in the years to come.

Mardi Gras: a party to remember

Mardi Gras. Two little words that describe a centuries-old celebration which originated in Medieval Europe. It is the name given to the final day of the Carnival season, the day that traditionally precedes forty days of fasting in some religions. The words mean 'Fat Tuesday', referring not only to the day on which the celebration is always held, but also to the custom of eating up all the forbidden food before the fast.

Today, it is the city of New Orleans in Louisiana, USA, that holds one of the most famous Mardi Gras celebrations in the world. Mardi Gras was introduced to North America in March 1699 by a French Canadian explorer called Jean-Baptiste Le Moyne de Bienville. Arriving on the eve of the festival at an area 90 kilometres south of what is now New Orleans, he organised the following day celebration on a plot of land he named Pointe du Mardi Gras. The custom soon caught on, and by the time New Orleans had been established by Bienville in 1718, Americans were celebrating their own version of Mardi Gras.

What makes the New Orleans event so special is its dazzling parades. Marching bands escort artistic carnival floats through streets lined with spectators wearing masks. These masks afforded the wearer a disguise which allowed him or her to mix with people of different classes.

As for the carnival floats, each one belongs to an organisation known as a 'krewe'. The tradition of the 'krewe' began in 1856 when six young men from the nearby town of Mobile formed the 'Mistek Krewe of Comus'. Not only does this group hold the distinction of being the first krewe, but it is also credited with parading the first float.

The second Mardi Gras krewe, the Twelfth Night Revelers was founded in 1870, and initiated another popular tradition, the Mardi Gras 'throws'. These are small presents which are tossed to the crowd by the costumed float-riders.

Mardi Gras was made official in New Orleans in 1875 when Governor Warmoth signed the Mardi Gras Act making Fat Tuesday a public holiday in Louisiana.

- 1 The first Mardi Gras was celebrated in North America when Bienville
 - A crossed the Canadian border.
 - B founded New Orleans.
 - C reached Pointe du Mardi Gras.
 - D landed on the coast of Louisiana.

Grammar

Future time clauses

I can use future time clauses.

Hi Emma,

Greetings from Amsterdam! (Although, by the time you read this, I'll probably be travelling to Berlin.) Amsterdam is great! I've done so much already - I'm afraid, I'll have run out of energy before the end of the trip! Luckily, this time tomorrow I'll be on a canal cruise, so that should be a bit calmer. I hope you're not studying too hard - I'll think of you while I'm relaxing on the boat! It's great that you'll be joining me in Paris next month. Guess what? Maroon 5 are touring there. I'll buy some tickets for us. Right, I'd better go, but I promise I'll send another postcard as soon as I've arrived in Berlin.

See you soon!

Josh

1 Read the postcard. What country is Josh meeting Emma in?

2 Read the Learn this! box. Then find examples for rules (1-3) in exercise 1.

LEARN THIS! Future time clauses

1 We use present tenses instead of will or be going to in future time clauses after these time conjunctions: after, as soon as, by the time, immediately, in case, once, the minute, the moment, until, when.
I'll write to you when I have time.

NOT ~~I'll write to you when I'll have time.~~ X

2 In future time clauses, we usually use the present perfect rather than the future perfect for actions that are complete in the future.

I'll phone as soon as I've checked in.

NOT ~~I'll phone as soon as I'll have checked in.~~ X

3 In future time clauses, we use the present continuous rather than the future continuous for actions that are in progress in the future.

Laura's TRAVELBLOG

Thinking of travelling around Europe? Having just completed my own three-month trip, here are my top tips for InterRailing.

InterRailing is one of the best ways to travel. It's easier and quicker than flying and you see some amazing scenery. But it's worth planning ahead:

➤ Be realistic about money. Make a weekly budget and stick to it.

➤ Decide which InterRail ticket is best for you. You can visit up to thirty European countries with the Global Pass, or, if you'd rather discover one country at a more leisurely pace, I'd recommend the cheaper One Country Pass.

➤ Book accommodation in advance. You can find some pretty good deals if you book early.

➤ Don't pack too much luggage. You'll have to carry it everywhere, so think hard about what you really need.

➤ Take appropriate clothing. You're hardly going to need a suit or high heels, but you will need comfortable shoes.

3 Complete the response to the blog in exercise 1. Use each word once to form an adverb or adverbial phrase.
closely daily early friendly late quick

Great tips – thanks, Laura! I'd also add that it's worth booking accommodation ¹ _____ as you may get a discount. Check travel websites ² _____ too, as the special offers don't last for very long. And watch your luggage ³ _____ if you're travelling by train – there have been several thefts reported ⁴ _____. Finally, in each country it's worth ⁵ _____ learning a few local phrases as soon as you arrive – you'll find the locals treat you in a more ⁶ _____ way!

1 SPEAKING Read the travel blog and discuss the questions. Give reasons for your answers.

- 1 Would you like to go InterRailing?
- 2 Which type of pass would you prefer?
- 3 Where would you go?

2 Read the Learn this! box. Then find an example of each rule in exercise 1.

LEARN THIS! Adverbs and adverbial phrases

1 Some adverbs have the same form as the adjective: early, fast, weekly, monthly, yearly, etc.

A weekly bus pass is cheaper.

I buy my bus pass weekly.

2 Other adjectives ending -ly do not have an adverbial form: friendly, lively, cowardly, motherly, lovely, etc. Instead we put the adjective in an adverbial phrase: She smiled at me in a friendly way.

3 Some adverbs have two forms: one with -ly and one without: close / closely, deep / deeply, late / lately, pretty / prettily, etc.

The meanings are sometimes very similar:

Let's stay close together.

The policeman watched them closely.

But they can also be unrelated:

The train arrived late.

Have you been abroad lately?

4 Choose the correct adverb to complete the sentences. Use a dictionary to help you.

- 1 a The journey took us deep / deeply into the country.
b I was deep / deeply shocked by the cost of the ticket.
- 2 a It's rough / roughly five kilometres to the next village.
b The sight of homeless people sleeping rough / roughly makes me really sad.
- 3 a We should get a pretty / prettily good deal at the hostel.
b You need to dress comfortably, not pretty / prettily!
- 4 a They stayed somewhere near / nearly.
b We've near / nearly reached the end of our trip.
- 5 a Which flight goes direct / directly to Hai Phong?
b The receptionist will be with you direct / directly.

5 Complete the sentences with the adverbs and adverbial phrases below.

- 1 We've been driving for hours, so we must be _____ near.
- 2 Tina updates her Facebook page _____.

‘Travelling’ online

If you haven't got time to go travelling, you can still enjoy it by following a traveller's experiences on their blog. Here are three of the most interesting and unusual globetrotters online!

At the age of seventeen, Alex Chacón set off from his home in El Paso, Texas and went for a motorbike ride. Alex's thirty-day tour of the USA took in California, Washington and Florida and gave Alex an aim in life: to travel the world on his motorbike.

Although Alex usually travels alone, he has shared his experiences on his blog.

While travelling, Alex videos himself doing all sorts of activities against breathtaking backgrounds of remote jungles, deserts and mountains. On one trip, he filmed himself by moving in a 360° circle so that all the famous landmarks would be included.

During Alex's motorcycle expeditions, he regularly stops to take part in volunteering projects at orphanages that he comes across on his route. Furthermore, he uses his blog to raise donations for orphans.

Alex is now planning to cross Africa, Europe and Asia. It seems that by the time he's thirty, Alex will have ridden his bike across most of the planet!

B

Dutch actress Manon Ossevoort has dreamed of travelling from Europe across Africa to the South Pole for years, and she chose a slow form of transport: a tractor.

Manon only averaged 5 km/h as she drove, but that allowed her to get to know the hospitable people in villages where she stopped over for the night. She would explain why she was going to the South Pole and ask people to follow her blog and write down their own dreams. She promised to build a snowman when she arrived at her destination and leave all their dreams inside it. The idea was popular and Manon received thousands of dreams on pieces of paper and in emails.

Finally, on 9 December 2014, Manon's dream came true, and she pulled up in a big red tractor at the South Pole. She then built a snowman and left a time capsule inside it with all the dreams she had collected. Manon explained on her blog that when the time capsule is opened in eighty years' time, future generations will be able to read something about our lives and our hopes for the future.

C

Have you ever travelled with no luggage? That was the question Rolf Potts aimed to answer on the 'no-baggage challenge'. However, the task wasn't simply a question of going off for a week to soak up the sun on a beach. Rolf had to travel 50,000 km by plane and get around eleven countries in 42 days with just the things he could carry in his pockets. Would he be able to do it?

Rolf was certainly well qualified enough to try. He was an experienced traveller who wrote a blog about budget travel. Now he planned to update it with regular reports about travelling extremely light.

His first 'no-baggage challenge' entry listed the items he took with him: a toothbrush and toothpaste, a small bottle of soap, a mobile phone and charger, deodorant, sunglasses, a passport, cash and a credit card. His second entry explained that he had got into the habit of washing his clothes before going to bed during his trips. By the third entry, he was really enjoying luggage-free travel.

Potts said that he would never pack any 'just in case' items again, because the imagined situations that they were packed for would never happen.

A letter of complaint

I can write a formal letter of complaint.

- 1 SPEAKING Why do people stay in youth hostels? What are the advantages and disadvantages?
- 2 SPEAKING Read the task. What things do you think might have gone wrong? Discuss and make a list of possible problems.

On a recent holiday, you and a group of friends stayed in a youth hostel. You were very dissatisfied with the experience. Write a letter to the owner saying why you are unhappy and suggest ways in which he / she could improve the hostel.

- 3 Read the letter. Were any of the complaints similar to your list in exercise 2?

Writing Strategy

When you write a formal letter:

- 1 divide your letter into paragraphs.
- 2 in the introduction, explain why you are writing. At the end, tell the reader what you would like them to do.
- 3 use formal language and avoid contractions and abbreviations.
- 4 use the appropriate phrases to start and finish your letter, depending on whether you know the recipient by name.

Dear Sir or Madam → Yours faithfully

Dear Mr Black / Ms White, etc. → Yours sincerely

- 4 Read the Writing Strategy and find examples of each of the four points in the letter.
- 5 Highlight eight formal expressions in the letter.

LEARN THIS! The subjunctive

- We can use the subjunctive in formal English for requests, suggestions, demands, etc.
- The subjunctive form of the verb is the same as the base form (e.g. go, be, look, etc.)
- We use the subjunctive in that clauses with ask, demand, insist, recommend, propose, request, suggest.
He insists that she leave now.
I suggest that the showers be cleaned more regularly.

Dear Sir or Madam,

I am writing to complain about our stay at your youth hostel from 14–16 May.

I reserved a room for four with a shower room, and I received confirmation of the booking. However, when we arrived, the receptionist maintained there was no record of my reservation. I produced my confirmation slip, but she just said that 'something must have been wrong with the website that day'.

We were given beds in a fourteen-person room with ten other people. There was one bathroom for all of us, which was dirty with no toilet paper. The receptionist took no notice of our complaints. Then we were supplied with no sheets on the beds! Eventually, we found some sheets and cleaned the bathrooms ourselves.

There was no apology at any point.

I feel strongly that we were treated very poorly. Firstly, I suggest that your online booking system be reviewed. Secondly, your staff should be trained to be more welcoming, and more helpful when problems arise. And finally, I request that there be sufficient bed linen, so that other guests are not inconvenienced as we were.

I feel we deserve some compensation and I look forward to hearing from you.

Yours faithfully,

Gemma Winters

- 6 Read the Learn this! box. Then find two examples of the subjunctive form in the letter.

Aborigines and Maoris

- 1 SPEAKING Look at the two photos. What do you know about the Aborigine and Maori cultures?
- Read the text. What two customs do the texts mention?
- 3 USE OF ENGLISH Complete the text. Write one word in each gap.

Anybody who is hoping to have new experiences when they visit Australia or New Zealand should meet the original inhabitants of ¹ two countries, the Aborigines and the Maoris. However, ² both cultures have experienced similar problems caused by the arrival of Europeans to their lands, the Aborigines and the Maoris are very different.

The Aborigines

The Aborigines have one of the oldest surviving cultures in the world. It is more ³ 60,000 years old, and during this period of time, they have formed hundreds of tribes that have developed different customs and around seven hundred different languages. In 1971, a flag ⁴ designed to represent all the Aborigine tribes and help unite them.

The Aborigines hold a lot of ceremonies to celebrate different events, but one of the most important to nearly ⁵ of the tribes is the 'walkabout'. It might seem like an adventure to people from other cultures, but the walkabout involves boys aged thirteen sleeping rough for as long as six months in the Australian desert. They spend the whole time alone and ⁶ to hunt for food to survive. Once the walkabout period has finished, they are welcomed back by their village, which celebrates the arrival of a new man in the community.

The Maoris

The Maoris arrived in New Zealand from East Polynesia in the second half of the 12th century. The Maoris all speak the ⁷ language and share the same customs, and this has helped them to have a strong presence in modern New Zealand. Maori is one of the country's two official languages. Maoris believe that all natural things and living things are connected, and modern Maoris are very concerned ⁸ the protection of the environment.

One important aspect of Maori culture is Ta moko – tattooing. Both men and women can have tattoos ⁹ their bodies or their faces. The tattoos represent the family or tribe that they belong ¹⁰. The designs are very intricate and are now inspiring a lot of the designs of tattoo artists around the world.

- Read the text again. Write A for Aborigines or M for Maoris.

Which people ...

- involve both females and males in a ritual?
- are interested in ecology?
- tried to symbolically unite their different groups?
- might have problems understanding each other?
- visually display their association with certain people?
- expect teenagers to be able to look after themselves?

- Answer the questions in your own words.

- Why do you think the creation of a flag was useful for the Aborigines?
- Why is 'walkabout' so important?
- Why are Maoris so interested in looking after the environment?
- How would you be able to know what tribe a Maori adult belongs to?

- 2.08 Listen to a radio interview. What is Nikau's attitude to his own culture? Is he proud, indifferent, concerned, or ignorant? How do you know?

- 2.08 Listen again and answer the questions.

- What does kia ora mean?
- What does whenua refer to?
- What type of holiday do a lot of tourists go on in New Zealand?

The rise of Airbnb

In 2007, design graduates, Joe Gebbie and Brian Chesky, were struggling to pay the rent for their San Francisco apartment. Hearing that there was a conference coming to town and there were no hotel rooms available, they created the website airbedandbreakfast.com where they advertised three airbeds in their home at $80 each a night, breakfast included. Only six days later, they had three guests sleeping on their floor. They knew immediately that this was the start of something big.

Being budding entrepreneurs, the pair decided to take their idea further. They enlisted Gebbie's former flatmate, Nathan Blecharczyk, a computer science graduate, to develop their website. Their idea was to target conferences and festivals across the USA, getting local people to list their rooms and travellers to book them. The new website was completed just in time for the 2008 Democratic National Convention in Denver, at which Barack Obama was due to speak in front of 80,000 people. Within a week, they had 800 listings, an achievement which dealt in part with the shortage of hotel rooms, but did not solve their financial problems, as the site was not making any money.

The team decided that they would have to handle payment for the bookings. They began to charge three per cent to the host and between six and twelve per cent to the traveller, depending on the price of the booking. Meanwhile, investors had started showing interest in the company. By April 2009, when larger investments began to arrive, they moved the company out of their flat into a new state-of-the-art office and hired more staff.

Since then Airbnb has gone from strength to strength. The company now has over 1.5 million listings in 34,000 cities in 190 countries, and is rumoured to be worth around $20 billion.

- Gebbie and Chesky decided to rent out floor space because
 - they wanted to attract people to a conference in their area.
 - they needed money to redecorate the living room.
 - there weren't any hotels near their local conference centre.
 - there was a temporary need for accommodation in the city.
- The new website designed by Nathan Blecharczyk enabled Gebbie and Chesky to - accommodate most of the guests at a Denver convention.
 - make a huge profit as soon as it was launched.
 - rent out properties nationally.
 - put travellers in touch with hosts abroad.

8 SPEAKING Work in groups. To what extent do you think personality tests help a high school student in choosing a job or career?

Past perfect simple and past perfect continuous

I can use the past perfect simple and past perfect continuous.

- 1 Read the text. What do you think made him succeed in getting the job?

Last week when John landed the job he had applied for, he got overexcited. That was probably to be expected, given that he had been experiencing ups and downs throughout the months. John is a programmer that graduated two years ago. He set out to apply for jobs right after his graduation. He had been looking at job advertisements even prior to that. His classmates even had established a contact group to offer each other help. They had been working part-time together on small projects. They had been exchanging information for months when he came across this advert of vacancy. He immediately sent the résumé he had been perfecting. Within five months, he had been short-listed for a test, then an interview. What a long journey to this dream job!

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Find all the examples of the past perfect simple and past perfect continuous in the text and match them with rules (a–d).

Job interviews

I can identify the attitude of a speaker.

- 1 SPEAKING Describe the photo. What is going on?
- Read the magazine article. How many types of job interviews are mentioned? Which do you prefer?

WHICH OF THESE HAVE YOU BEEN TO?

PANEL INTERVIEWS

In panel interviews, you are to be interviewed by several interviewers at a time. They usually come from different departments of the company. In certain cases, there may be interviewers from a partner of the company.

GROUP INTERVIEWS

Many candidates are interviewed at the same time. The same question is asked and the candidates give their responses in turn. This way, recruitment process can be shortened and potential employees can be short-listed for more than one position.

ONE-ON-ONE INTERVIEWS

The traditional interview involves one interviewer and one interviewee.

DISTANCE INTERVIEWS

Modern technology has made this possible in the past decade. No longer is distance an obstacle to an interview participant. Nowadays interviews can be conducted via telephone or with video calls.

LUNCH INTERVIEWS

These interviews go on in informal contexts. They sound more like a conversation, but the interviewer actually can also observe how the interviewees interact with others.

Listening Strategy

When you listen, pay attention to what words each speaker uses to express his / her attitude. Words with a similar meaning may have different connotations.

- 3 2.11 Read the Listening Strategy. Then listen and underline the correct words to complete the sentences.

- Speaker 2 says the graduate on the chat show is stubborn / determined.

- 6 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

used to and would

I can correctly use used to and would.

Physician Akrit Jaswal had a very unusual childhood. He didn't use to play with toys like most children. Instead, he used to read a lot – he could read and write from the age of two. And what did he use to read as a five-year-old boy? Shakespeare! He also had a passion for science and would read everything he could find about human anatomy. He performed his first operation at the age of seven, treating the badly burned hands of a young girl whose family couldn't afford medical care. This operation was filmed and posted on YouTube – leading to worldwide fame for Akrit. At the age of twelve, he was accepted into a medical university. He studied there for several years. He was the youngest ever to achieve this in India at that time ...

- 1 Read the text. What is unusual about Akrit Jaswal?
- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Then find all the examples of used to and would in the text.

LEARN THIS! used to and would

- 1 We use used to + infinitive and would + infinitive to talk about past habits and situations that were different in the past.
His family used to be extremely poor.
When he was young, he'd spend time studying medicine.
- 2 We don't use used to + infinitive or would + infinitive when we say how long a past habit or situation lasted. We use the past simple.
He went to college for five years.
NOT ~~He used to / would go to college for five years.~~ X
- 3 We don't use would with state verbs – we use used to.
He used to love reading.
NOT ~~He would love reading.~~ X
- 4 We avoid using would with questions and negatives.
Did he use to play with cars and dolls?
NOT ~~Would he play with cars and dolls?~~ X
People didn't use to become famous so easily in the past.
NOT ~~People wouldn't become famous so easily in the past.~~ X

- 3 Complete the sentences with the correct form of used to or would. In which sentences is either possible?

- 1 He _____ (work) as a journalist for a science magazine.
- 2 Years ago, small children _____ (clean) chimneys to earn money.
- 3 That athlete _____ (have) difficulties getting picked for the team.
- 4 _____ (she / wear) uniform in her previous job?

- 4 Decide if the highlighted words in the text below are correct or incorrect. Correct any mistakes in your notebook using the correct form of used to or would, or the past simple where neither is possible.

Rome wasn't built in one day. Every success story is made up of diligence and persistence. Michael Jordan, one of the greatest basketballers ever, used to practise hard for 2.5 hours every day, and immediately after that he would ask a teammate of his, James Worthy, to play one-to-one. He would want to go after whoever was the team leader at the time. Steve Jobs, the famous co-founder of Apple Inc., would start his working days at home at 6.30 a.m. and he used to send emails for nearly an hour. He used to be fond of the same style of clothes throughout the years. The Williams sisters would get up at 6 o'clock, practise in the tennis court before going to school.

- 2 When you were younger, you _____ (use / have) a dream job?
- 3 Years ago, people _____ (not / use) want to become doctor as much as they do now.
- 4 He was such a lazy technician that he _____ (would / do) his work an hour before the deadline.

- 6 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Think about when you were five or six years old. Talk to your partner about these things. Use used to or would.

I used to have a giant teddy bear that I really loved.

Position and order of adjectives

I can use adjectives correctly.

- 1 Read the message board. Who thinks highly of the HR manager?

Message board

I really admire Lam Anh. She's such a talented young HR Manager. She also does selfless charity work, helping to fight hunger and poverty and supporting people with disabilities. NAM

I'm from the HR Department and I agree she's great. And she always looks stunning – did you see her wearing fashionable white dress and silver shoes? Amazing! AN

Can't agree with you, Nam – I get really annoyed by these self-centred people. They work in huge modern offices and enjoy enviable perks while we are struggling with the burden of work in the stuffy noisy factory and receive nothing but low wages. Why don't they put forward a plan to better the working conditions? MINH

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Find all the adjectives in exercise 1. Do they come before a noun or after a linking verb?

LEARN THIS! Position and order of adjectives

1 We can use most adjectives before a noun or after a linking verb (be, become, feel, get, look, seem, smell, sound, taste, etc.).

She's a wonderful singer! Her voice sounds fantastic.

2 When we use more than one adjective to describe a noun, we use this order:

I can understand an article about careers.

- 1 SPEAKING Look at the following ideas. What problems are mentioned? Which is of the most concern among young adults?

AI taking over jobs

- 2 Read the text and answer the questions.

In which paragraph (A–F) does the writer ...

- 1 provide an example of a source of advice for those selecting a career?
- 2 give explanations for the need of a certain characteristic?
- 3 give an example of the jobs that won't be done properly by a robot?

Reading Strategy

- Read the multiple-choice questions and all possible answers carefully.
- Find the part of the text that each question refers to.
- Read the answers again and choose the one that best matches the information in the text.
- Check that the other answers are incorrect.

- 3 Read the Reading Strategy. Then read the first question in exercise 4, followed by paragraph A. When you have chosen the correct answer (a, b, c or d), read the paragraph again and decide why the other options are wrong.

- 4 Read the text. For questions (2–5), circle the correct options (a–d).

- 1 It is harder for manual workers to find jobs because
 - a the modern world prefers automatic holograms.
 - b they do not work as effectively as robots.
 - c robots for the airports are now available.
 - d customers to restaurants are served by robots.
- 2 The key to a good choice of career is
 - a talking with one's parents.
 - b taking calculated risks.

 - a is not a frightening threat to young adults' career.
 - b is more efficient than humans in almost any field of work.
 - c is going to free humans from the need to go to work.
 - d is less sophisticated than humans in hospitals and schools.

JOINING THE WORKFORCE

2.13

A The world of work has been undergoing dramatic changes. Step by step, robots are taking over manual jobs that used to be done by semi-skilled workers.

AI assistants in the forms of holograms have been on trial at Changi Airport and Boston Airport. Their performance as perfectly efficient check-in staff has amazed users. Certain restaurants in South Korea have introduced tablets for self-order and have even made use of maid robots in place of waiters and waitresses. Getting a secure job or a career can't have been more challenging.

B On leaving school, 18-year-olds are faced with one of the toughest decisions of their life: career choice. Which to pursue requires sensible decision basing on their in-depth self-understanding. Guidance from school counsellors and parents together with insights into their potentials from character tests will empower them to make informed decisions. It is also worth noticing that, in this ever-advancing world, school-leavers need to be well-prepared for changes and once-in-a-lifetime opportunity.

C However bewildering career choice may be, it is no more than the beginning of a person's career. To further it, they have no alternative but to become better day by day. In essence, career development is a continual and lifelong process in which they need to specify their goals, boost their own confidence, improve communication skills, and expand personal networking. Actually, university graduation simply celebrates the completion of adults' mainstream education, signifying their non-stop self-improvement.

D Of all the qualities, a person's flexibility will work in this full-of-changes world. Flexibility manifests itself in professional agility, problem-solving skills, change management and innovative thinking. As long as they are not set in their way of thinking, they can easily get a task done.

E AI has been replacing certain blue-collar workers, but it can never establish a role in a field that has something to do with emotional intelligence (EQ). Automated learning machines can repeatedly lecture a subject, but they can never become an inspiring story for students. Robots in hospitals can accurately perform operations, but at no time can they comfort the lonely and suffering patients like a gentle nurse.

F Technology has taken mankind to a world of constant change. School-leavers are expected to improve themselves and own the right skills to meet the social demands.

6 Write a short summary of the text. Use the following questions as an outline.

- How has the world of work been?
- What causes most concern among 18-year-olds? Where can they turn to for help regarding choosing a career?
- What is of vital importance to getting on in your career?
- Why is it important to be flexible?
- What prevents the conquest of robots in the world of work?
- What affects one's future career most?

8 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- 1 What jobs do you think AI can't do properly?
- 2 What do you think is more important when it comes to choosing a job: the salary or the job satisfaction?

7 VOCABULARY Match the highlighted nouns in the text with definitions (1–7).

Work and jobs

- 1 a system of trying to meet and talk to other people who may be useful in your work
- 2 an understanding of what something or someone is
- 3 the ability to think quickly and intelligently
- 4 the act of dealing with something successfully
- 5 work done physically or by hands
- 6 all the workers / employees in a company or an organisation
- 7 something one hopes to achieve

RADA

- 1 SPEAKING Look at the photo. What are the people doing? Would you like to be an actor? Why? / Why not?
- Read the text. What three things does it mention that a RADA student learns?

RADA

- A Becoming a truly great actor requires talent, hard work and hours of study. In Britain, the Royal Academy of Dramatic Art (RADA) ¹ _____ trained and produced many of the country's most famous actors since it was established in 1904, but just how does RADA turn passionate young hopefuls into respected professionals?
- B One of the methods RADA teaches is the Stanislavski acting technique. The technique was devised ² _____ the famous Russian actor Konstantin Stanislavski in 1911, after he had been performing in theatres ³ _____ over thirty years. It requires actors to really live the role that they are playing. The actors not ⁴ _____ have to learn the lines that they have to say, but also recreate everything about the character's life.
- C But if modern audiences would be surprised to discover that students learn an acting technique that is over a century old, they might ⁵ _____ astonished to discover that they also study a form of theatre that has been around for over two millennia: Greek tragedy. The Greeks used to study playwriting and acting and produced some important theoretical works on the subject. Their ideas are still considered very relevant today and anybody ⁶ _____ wants to obtain a degree from RADA has to study them.
- D RADA students also spend many hours training their voices and learning ⁷ _____ use their bodies to communicate in the same way that a musician learns how to play an instrument. A RADA student's objective is to use their creativity to transform written words into a three-dimensional character. Evidently, becoming an actor is ⁸ _____ serious business and definitely not for people who are only interested in fame.

- 3 USE OF ENGLISH Complete the text about RADA. Write one word in each gap.

- 4 2.16 Listen to an interview about how actors prepare for their roles. Match the people (1–3) with the things that they did (A–C).

- Konstantin Stanislavski
- Meryl Streep
- Leonardo DiCaprio

- studied psychiatric patients.
- prepared a list of questions.
- prepared for a film about the Second World War.

- 5 2.16 Listen again. Are the sentences true or false? Write T or F.

- Copying certain emotions is not so difficult for actors.
- The Stanislavski system involves actors asking themselves questions about their own acting ability.
- Meryl Streep studied a foreign language.
- Meryl Streep wanted to read poetry in a foreign language.
- Leonardo DiCaprio met people who had had experiences that he wanted to recreate in a film.
- Leonardo DiCaprio visited a psychiatric hospital on an island to prepare for a film.

- 6 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Look at the picture and discuss the questions.

- Can you name the arts form in the brochure? Give a short presentation on its history.
- How has the Đông Âu Bạch Long group contributed to the development of the arts form?

Reading

Read the text. Match paragraphs (A–C) with questions (1–6). Each paragraph matches two questions.

In which paragraph does the author mention ...

- 1 an extra received on top of the wages?
- 2 something that might give away the identity of the worker?
- 3 a trend which has changed employment prospects?
- 4 typical consumer behaviour?
- 5 the difficulty of finding a job in the field?
- 6 a good reason for doing the job?

A secret job in the retail trade

A I am in a supermarket, doing my best to look like any other shopper browsing the shelves. My mission on this trip is to buy something I fancy from the bakery, which means I'll have to interact with the person at the counter. I'm hoping to pass off the handwritten notes I'm carrying as a shopping list, because no one must know why I am here. I have to keep my identity secret because I am a mystery shopper.

B My job involves visiting five to ten different stores a day and scoring them on, among other things, their appearance and cleanliness. With the €20 I am given to spend at each store, I purchase the obligatory item that enables me to assess the service I receive at the checkout. Adding the value of my purchase to the €225 I make in a typical day of eight hours of visits and two hours filing reports, I earn more than enough to live on.

C However, assignments paying as well as mine are becoming few and far between due to the soaring demand in my line of work. Retailers increasingly need to maintain standards so as to offer consumers a quality shopping experience and keep them from turning to the internet. However, to date, there are more than half a million mystery shoppers registered in the UK, making competition for jobs very fierce. Today it isn't only other shoppers I hide my identity from; even my friends and family don't know who I work for.

Listening

2.17 Listen and underline the correct words to complete the sentences.

- 1 Speaker 1 describes the film premiere as packed / bustling.
- 2 Speaker 2 says that the singer was watched / spied on.
- 3 Speaker 3 describes the actor as stubborn / determined.
- 4 Speaker 4 thinks the footballer is generous / extravagant.
- 5 Speaker 5 says that the people in the TV show often chat / gossip.

Speaking

Compare the two photos. Then give your opinions about the different venues of job interviews.

A history of hygiene

Ancient ideas of hygiene

The ancient Greeks and Egyptians enjoyed relatively high standards of personal hygiene – they had been taught about the importance of cleanliness by their religious leaders. But it was the Romans who developed the first public toilets and enormous public baths.

19th century developments

Louis Pasteur and Joseph Lister's revolutionary ideas about using sterile instruments in clean hospitals were adopted in the 19th century. Before then, up to half of Lister's patients who had survived surgery were being killed by infections spread by germs. Infection and disease haven't been eliminated entirely in our hospitals yet, but they have been significantly reduced.

Today and tomorrow

Although hygiene in developing countries is being improved all the time, 36% of the world's population is still affected by poor hygiene. Furthermore, medical organisations will be challenged in the future by new infections and diseases; the world's population is so closely connected that potentially catastrophic epidemics will be transmitted around the globe in days.

The cities were overcrowded with frightened people and ⁴coughs and sneezes quickly infected them. Similarly, in 2019, ⁵COVID-19 attacked different areas of the world. ⁶The virus corona infected millions of people. ⁷Authorities had to lock down many cities to stop the infection. This virus is still popular but ⁸vaccines can save patients from danger.

- 2 You should drink at least eight glasses of water a day.
- 3 Being slightly fat is good for you.
- 4 Sleeping longer at weekends makes up for lost sleep.

- 2 Read the text and check your answers to exercise 1.

MYTH BUSTING

Never wake a sleepwalker

Waking a sleepwalker was once widely believed to be dangerous because it was thought something terrible would happen to them. While nobody likes being woken up, the worst thing they will experience is confusion because they are not in bed!

Drink eight glasses of water a day

This myth is thought to have been started by the bottled water industry. In fact, some of us need as little as a litre of liquid a day, which doesn't have to be consumed as water. Food, soft drinks, milk, tea and coffee all count.

Being a bit overweight is unhealthy

It is often reported that serious health problems can be caused by obesity. However, people carrying an extra couple of kilos in weight might actually live longer.

You can catch up on lost sleep

During the week, your sleep might be disturbed by late-night study, noisy neighbours, or a night out. But forget about sleeping longer at the weekend – staying in bed too long is thought to make you feel more tired!

- 3 Read the Learn this! box. Then find examples of each rule in the text in exercise 2.

LEARN THIS! The passive: advanced structures

- 1 We can use passive structures with present and past forms of modal verbs.

Everyone should be encouraged to eat healthily.
My computer must have been hacked.

- 2 Verbs that are followed by an infinitive or gerund can also be followed by a passive infinitive or gerund.

She hopes to be accepted into medical school.
I hate being told what to eat.

a it + passive + that:

It is estimated that we need eight hours' sleep each night.
In the past, it was thought that bathing was bad for you.

Compound adjectives

I can use compound adjectives.

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- 1 What was your last dream or nightmare about?
- 2 Can our dreams help us in our waking lives?

2 Read the text. How could 'lucid dreaming' help students?

The idea that we can control our dreams through a technique called 'lucid dreaming' is usually the stuff of sci-fi films. During lucid dreaming, the sleeper knows they are dreaming and can control what happens – even deciding to have breathtaking experiences like flying. Now, thought-provoking research has received broad-based support from some highly respected scientists, who think it may not be as far-fetched as it sounds.

Lucid dreaming isn't just about mind-blowing experiences. It can be used to improve a variety of skills, from playing the piano to public speaking. It's been shown that people who dream about practising things, like playing the piano, do them better in 'real life' the next day. Well-known athletes also use lucid dreaming to help them deliver record-breaking performances.

You don't need to be highly trained to have lucid dreams, but half-hearted efforts won't work, so try the following steps regularly:

- 1 Do difficult tasks during the day, such as studying a foreign language; it makes lucid dreaming more likely.
- 2 Decide what you want to dream about before you sleep.
- 3 As soon as you wake up and are still bleary-eyed, make notes about dreams while they are fresh in your memory.

3 Put the highlighted compound adjectives in the text into the correct columns.

1 _____	4 _____	8 _____

4 Underline the compound adjectives in sentences (1–6) and match them with definitions (a–f). Then answer the questions.

- 1 Would you describe yourself as single-minded?
- 2 Do you ever buy second-hand goods?
- 3 When did you last watch a light-hearted film?
- 4 Which school subjects do you find most straightforward?
- 5 Do you think it's better to be good-looking or talented?
- 6 Were you a high-spirited child?

- | | |
|--------------|---------------|
| a attractive | d determined |
| b easy | e energetic |
| c not new | f not serious |

Dictionary Strategy

Compound adjectives made up of an adjective + noun + -ed or a noun + -ing form usually have their own dictionary entries. However, compound adjectives made up of an adverb + past participle do not have their own entries, as the meaning is similar to the meaning of the headword.

5 DICTIONARY WORK Read the Dictionary Strategy. Which of the compound adjectives below are likely to have their own entry? Check your answers in a dictionary.

densely populated English-speaking light-hearted much-needed old-fashioned record-breaking

Few people would disagree that one of the world's most popular dishes is pizza. Twenty-two-year-old Zack certainly wouldn't. He would eat a variety of pizza-based items, including homemade pizza, precooked microwave pizza, and even pizza leftovers from the night before. He was consuming 800kg of pizza a year. As a child, Zack had eaten a wide variety of food. But he became addicted to pizza when he started secondary school. American school meals have often been criticised for the large amount of fast food present on the menu, and pizza is the star dish. Zack even spent all his pocket money on slices of pizza.

Naturally, Zack's family worried about his high-calorie, low-vitamin diet. So did Zack. In an attempt to break his addiction, Zack agreed to appear on a TV programme called Freaky Eaters. ¹ ____ It wasn't easy. - Seventeen-year-old Stacy Irvine's friends visit her and discover that she has been rewarded thousands of free toys from fast food restaurants as a regular customer. Stacy's mother often gave her two-year-old girl a portion of fried chicken in a McDonald's restaurant. Since then, Stacy has refused to eat anything else except for pieces of fried chicken, and as a result, her diet has created serious health. She has been warned that if she doesn't change her diet, she will die. Stacy once collapsed due to lack of vitamins and nutrients and needed to be hospitalised. ² She insisted that Stacy adopt a healthier lifestyle. However, worryingly, Stacy's mother said that while Stacy was beginning to understand the seriousness of her situation, she couldn't eat anything else but chicken nuggets.

Twenty-year-old Hanna Little was keen on chips. The only thing that Hanna consumed for fifteen years was one plate of chips after another. ³ And it did, because not only did Hanna develop health problems, but she also had to leave her job after collapsing at work. At five, Hanna became addicted to chips and refused to eat fruits and vegetables despite her mother's efforts. Hanna says that she was terrified of tasting the flavour of different types of food and she would feel anxious just at the idea of doing it. ⁴ Furthermore, Hanna was soon seen as 'odd' by her friends' parents.

It wasn't until the age of sixteen that Hanna realised she had Selective Eating Disorder (SED). Despite this new knowledge, no solution was found. It wasn't until she lost her job before she started eating normally. Hanna sought therapy from psychologist Felix Economakis, who used hypnosis, a treatment that none of the doctors that she had seen before had mentioned, to get her to eat fruit after one one-hour session, and since then she has been willing to eat anything ... including chips!

7 Read the task below. Make notes on your opinions.

You've read an article about teenagers and fast food. Write an article for your school website about the dangers of teenagers eating too much fast food, and how students can be persuaded to eat less of it.

Not so sweet?

I don't know anyone who doesn't love sugar. Humans have a natural sweet tooth and it can be difficult to control our sugar-eating habits. But how can something so nice be so bad for us?

Obviously, naturally occurring sugar, for example in fruit, is considered healthy sugar. However, refined sugar is not healthy and is added to many processed foods to make them taste better. Surprisingly, this 'hidden' sugar can be found in many savoury foods like bread, tins of vegetables and sauces. Moreover, refined sugar has no nutritional value and therefore offers 'empty' calories. It also has no fibre, unlike the natural sugar in fruit, and therefore is easy to eat a lot of. Consequently, excess calories cause weight gain. Too much sugar also encourages childhood tooth decay and diabetes in later life.

So, how can we reduce sugar, especially hidden sugars in our diets? I think the government is responsible. Ideally, it should regulate the amount of sugar that companies can add to processed foods. Furthermore, sugar's health risks should be taught in school. This approach has worked for smoking, after all.

Personally, I think it is extremely important that young people know about the dangers of sugar so that we can make informed choices. Although it is delicious, we must not put our future health at risk.

8 Plan your article in your notebook. Organise your ideas into paragraphs and link them. Then write your article (180–200 words).

As the capital of the nation where the Industrial Revolution began, London has suffered badly from the effects of pollution. Recent efforts to make the city cleaner, however, are turning it into one of the world's least polluted major cities.

A A RIVER FILLED WITH LIFE

For years, the River Thames was a health hazard because of pollution, and in 1957 it was declared biologically dead. Half a century later, the Thames has won international prizes for rivers that have been restored. There are now hundreds of different types of animal and bird feeding on its banks, over 125 different species of fish swimming beneath its surface, and even seals and dolphins have swum up the river from the coast to visit the centre of the city.

B THE GREAT SMOG

Since the beginning of the Industrial Revolution, Londoners had become used to suffering from coughs and chest infections caused by smog, which is a combination of smoke and fog. However, when the smog of December 1952 caused four thousand deaths in one week, the government finally realised that something had to be done. A series of 'clean-air' laws were passed to avoid a repeat of the tragedy, and since then the quality of London's air has improved greatly, although there is still plenty of work to do.

C PAYING TO DRIVE

At the beginning of the new millennium, because of the number of vehicles, traffic in London was moving at the same speed that it had moved at a hundred years before, when people travelled in horse-drawn carriages: just 1.6 km/h. To improve journey times and the quality of London's air, a daily charge of £5 was introduced in 2003 for all vehicles being driven in the city. Not only did the number of cars on the roads immediately drop by 15%, but also the number of people cycling increased by 49%, so people benefitted from cleaner air and more exercise. In the last decade, the number of vehicles in central London has fallen by a further 30% and plans to reduce the number of parking spaces for cars will probably cause it to drop again.

Review Unit 6

Reading

Read the text and questions (1–6) below. Match the correct question with each part of the text (A–C). You can match each part with more than one question.

In which paragraph does the author mention an activity which ...

- 1 has become extremely popular recently?
- 2 requires you to do two things at once?
- 3 has made an existing form of exercise more extreme?
- 4 gives the wrong impression to the observer?
- 5 tires you out after a very short time?
- 6 can be particularly painful?

The fitness trends

- A Reformer Pilates is a much more intense form of Pilates. It involves doing the same sort of pushing and stretching exercises, but on equipment resembling a rowing machine. It isn't the kind of thing you'd have at home, so you have to go to a special Pilates centre to try it. If you do, bear in mind that you won't be able to walk up or down stairs for a few days afterwards. At first, it looks quite easy, but towards the end of the session, your thighs will be crying out for mercy.
- B Jumping up and down on a trampoline is a lot of fun, but it can make a great workout too. You'd be surprised by how exhausted you are after only a few minutes bouncing. Not only is it better for the heart than running, but it also increases co-ordination and helps reduce stress levels. Trampolining is taking off in a big way, and some new centres have as many as 150 trampolines. You can either have a go at 'freejumping' – without an instructor – or pay someone to teach you how to do it properly.
- C If you're usually quite active, but you're feeling down in the dumps, then you might like to try Dynamic Running Therapy – going out for a run with a therapist. The sessions are quite pricey as the therapists are professionals and they charge a bit more than the going rate. It's easier to do both activities when you're running and talking at the same time: you run further because you don't notice your sore feet, and you talk more freely than you would in the therapist's office.

 - b it is a great source of fibre.

Reported speech

I can report what people have said and asked.

- 1 Read the email. Look at the phrases in bold. What were the actual words used by the speakers?

To: daisy@email.com

Hi Daisy,

Last week 'my brother said that he had posted some photos on his blog. Then he told me that some of his friends had left negative comments on the photos, and he would not forget them. I said that he had relied too much on information from social media, and that he shouldn't spend time reading them. My mum says that my brother needs support from me and I shouldn't complain about his dependence on social media. What do you think? Eva

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Then find examples of the rules in exercise 1.

LEARN THIS! Changes in reported speech

- After reporting verbs in the past, the verbs of the original speech move back in time.
'I'll call later.' → She said she'd call later.
- After reporting verbs in the present, future or present perfect, the tense is usually the same as the original because the time reference is the same.
'Jo's passed her exams.' → He says Jo's passed her exams.
- Modal verbs are usually unchanged after past reporting verbs.
'I might get a new bike.' → He said he might get a new bike.
- We make changes to personal and possessive pronouns, determiners like this / that, and expressions when the time reference has changed.
'I'll lend you this DVD tomorrow.' → She said she'd lend me the DVD the next day.

➔ Grammar Builder 7.1 page 127

- 3 Read what Daisy said to Eva. Rewrite the paragraph, changing the direct speech to reported speech.

I have read the comments on your brother's photos. Besides three negative comments, most of the comments were encouraging enough. I guess your brother is too sensitive. I agree that we should not rely too much on other people's attitude on social media, but your mum was right when she asked you to give him more support.

Daisy told Eva that she had read the comments on her brother's photos. She said that ...

- 4 Rewrite the sentences, changing the direct speech to reported speech. Use the reporting verb in brackets. (Each speaker is / was talking to you.)

- Lee: 'I'm scared of heights.' (tells)
- Simon: 'You should always tell the truth.' (said)
- Alison: 'I've never believed in ghosts.' (says)
- Pete: 'I'll be watching TV this evening.' (has said)
- May: 'You might see me at the concert.' (told)
- Jim: 'I won't be late tomorrow.' (says)

LEARN THIS! Reported questions

- Tense changes for reported questions are the same as for reported speech. The word order is the same as for statements. We don't use auxiliary verbs.
'Do you like reggae?' → She asked me if I liked reggae.
'What time does the concert start?' → She asked me what time the concert started.
- We use if or whether to report yes/no questions.
'Was the bus late?' → He asked me if the bus had been late.
- We don't include question tags in reported questions.
'Pat's coming, isn't he?' → He asked me if Pat was coming.
- To report short answers, we use the auxiliary or modal from the short answer.
'Do you speak French?' 'I don't.' → She asked me if I spoke French and I said I didn't.

➔ Grammar Builder 7.2 page 128

- 5 Read the Learn this! box and rewrite each sentence using the word in brackets.

- 'What time will the café open tomorrow?' he asked us. (next day)
- 'Shall I call you a taxi?' Pam asked me. (whether)
- 'Don't believe anything Jim says,' Fran told us. (not)
- 'We must get to the airport on time,' I told her. (that)
- 'Who did you see at the club last night?' Tony asked me. (before)

- 6 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Tell your partner about an occasion when somebody asked you a lot of information about your post on social media. (Invent one if necessary.) Include reported speech and reported questions in your account.

Urban legends

I can understand how intonation affects meaning.

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- Do you enjoy scary films, stories or fairground rides?
- Do you find any of these things scary?

dogs heights large crowds snakes spiders water

2 3.03 Read the definition of an urban legend, then listen to the story. What happened? Did you like it?

urban legend noun a modern story that spreads spontaneously and has elements of humour or horror

Listening Strategy

Speakers often use intonation to express their opinion or attitude about the statements they make. Pay attention to the speaker's tone of voice and the intonation they use to find out how they feel about their subject.

3 3.03 Read the Listening Strategy. Listen again to the first part of the story. Pay attention to the extracts (1–4) and match each extract with one of the adjectives below. There are two extra adjectives.

angry enthusiastic nervous patient sarcastic surprised

- Max A horror story. Great, Ian. They're so interesting.
- Jill Oh shush, Max. Fantastic! How scary is it?
- Ian Well, whatever. I'm not saying it isn't true. It could easily be true.
- Caro Oh, dear. I don't like this story already.

PRONUNCIATION Intonation and meaning

1 Qualifying an opinion

Rising intonation can give the spoken words a slightly modified opinion:

The film's quite good ... (there's an implied but at the end)

2 Flat voice for sarcasm or irony

If we use a flat tone, we mean the opposite to the words we use:

Brilliant! (You mean it.)

Brilliant, --- (You don't mean it.)

4 3.04 Read the Pronunciation box. Then listen carefully to the examples. Repeat them, copying the intonation.

5 3.05 Listen to the examples from the story. Match them with the rules in the Pronunciation box.

- Caro Well, I think I like horror stories.
- Max Oh, yeah. It's so scary.
- Jill I quite like this kind of story.
- Caro She shouldn't get out of the car.

6 3.06 Listen to the sentences (1–6). Choose the correct meaning (a or b).

a qualifying b a statement

a enthusiastic b sarcastic
- You'll love it.
a sarcastic b expecting agreement
- This is the road home.
a expecting disagreement b expecting agreement
- This is nice.
a qualifying b statement
- Oh, great. Just what we need.
a enthusiastic b sarcastic

8 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Do you have urban legends in Viet Nam? Find a story and make notes for it. Share your story with another pair's.

Reporting verbs

I can report what people have said in a variety of ways.

1 Read the news report and answer the questions.

- 1 What has the man been accused of doing?
- 2 Can you give examples of similar telephone or internet scams?

Last night, police arrested a man for using social media to obtain people's phone numbers. Martin Wheeler, 41, had phoned a number of people and apparently convinced them that they had won a free gift. He asked them to provide their financial details. Wheeler has admitted that the free gifts didn't exist, but has denied that he actually stole any money. He claimed that he'd been trying to raise awareness of the dangers of giving away their details. Police have warned the public never to make personal or financial information available to others unless absolutely certain that they are genuine.

LEARN THIS! Other reporting structures

We can use other structures to report commands, promises, requests, suggestions, etc.

- 1 verb + infinitive with to agree, offer, promise, refuse, threaten
- 2 verb + object + infinitive with to advise, ask, beg, encourage, forbid, invite, order, remind, tell, warn
- 3 verb + -ing
deny, recommend, suggest
- 4 verb + preposition + -ing admit to, apologise for, boast about, confess to, insist on
- 5 verb + object + preposition + -ing accuse of, blame for, congratulate on, criticise for
- 6 verb + that + should clause / verb + that + subjunctive clause demand, insist, propose, recommend, request, suggest

➔ Grammar Builder 7.4 page 129

2 3.08 Listen to what the people in exercise 1 actually said. In each case, identify:

- 1 the part of the report where the direct speech is reported.
- 2 the reporting verb that is used (e.g. warn, admit, etc.).

LEARN THIS! Reporting verbs

We can report statements with say and tell or other verbs, e.g. admit, announce, argue, complain, deny, explain, insist, promise, etc. and that.

'Excuse me, but my soup is cold,' the customer said.

'It's meant to be served that way, sir,' said the waiter.

→ The customer complained that his soup was cold. The waiter explained that it was meant to be served that way.

➔ Grammar Builder 7.3 page 128

3 Read the Learn this! box. Then report the sentences with the reporting verbs below and that.

admit announce deny explain insist promise

Luke admitted that he had eaten the last chocolate in the box.
- 2 Dan said to Mia, 'I'm late because I missed the bus.'
- 3 Pete said to me, 'Seriously, you are definitely wrong.'
- 4 Jen said, 'Guess what! I've passed all my exams!'
- 5 Pablo said, 'Of course I'll be there on time.'
- 6 Jack said, 'I haven't taken your keys, honestly.'

| 1 invite | 7 agree |
| 2 congratulate | 8 threaten |
| 3 remind | 9 encourage |

- 1 a useful thing that someone recommend that you do.
- 2 something your parents warned you not to do as a child.
- 3 a time when a friend refused to do something.
- 4 something that you had to apologise for doing.
- 5 a time when someone accused you of something you didn't do.
- 6 something you did that you later denied doing.

Nouns and dependent prepositions

I can use nouns and dependent prepositions.

- 1 Look the photos. How do you think these images were made?
- 2 Read the article. What's the most amusing or unusual hoax image you've seen? Do you think hoaxes are a problem? Why? / Why not?

Although technology has created an increase in hoax images, the first fake photo dates back to the 1830s. Some years later, a book claimed to show the surface of the moon – even though this wasn't actually photographed. An obsession with the spirit world led to a series of photos showing ghosts and fairies, and 1960s interest in space travel produced numerous images of alien life. Nowadays, there is plenty of online evidence of our addiction to this visual trickery – there seems to be an endless demand for amusing images of monster cats, mutant squids, and friends posing with Hollywood stars. It can be almost impossible to tell the difference between what's real and what's fake.

LEARN THIS! Nouns + dependent prepositions

Some nouns are followed by certain prepositions, called dependent prepositions. The choice of preposition depends on the noun and its specific use and meaning. When a verb follows a preposition, we use the -ing form.

The trouble with putting images online is that anyone can see them.

➔ Grammar Builder 7.5 page 129

- 3 Read the Learn this! box. Then find the nouns below in the text in exercise 2. Which prepositions are they followed by?
addiction demand difference evidence increase interest obsession

Dictionary Strategy

Some nouns can be followed by more than one dependent preposition. To decide which preposition is needed, consider the sense in which the noun is used. If you're not sure what preposition to use, always check in a dictionary.

- 4 DICTIONARY WORK Read the Dictionary Strategy and the dictionary entry below. Answer the questions.

- 1 Which two prepositions can follow 'evidence'?
- 2 In what two ways is the information about dependent prepositions given?

evidence noun 1 [U, C] the facts, signs or objects that make you believe that something is true evidence (of sth) There is convincing evidence of a link between exposure to sun and skin cancer. The room bore evidence of a struggle. evidence (for sth) We found further scientific evidence for this theory.

- 5 Add the nouns to the table. Use a dictionary to help you.
belief dependence effect objection preference reason rise solution

+ on	+ in	+ for	+ to

- 6 Choose the correct prepositions to complete the sentences. Check your ideas in a dictionary.

- 1 a There's been a recent rise with / in cases of online fraud.
b Her rise to / for fame came with the release of her film.
- 2 a What's the matter with / of Tom? He looks terrible!
b This is a serious crime which is a matter for / on the police.
- 3 a His taste for / of travel led him to become an explorer.
b I really can't stand my parents' taste with / in music.
- 4 a We had a difference on / of opinion about where to go.
b Have you noticed a difference for / in Liv's behaviour?

- 7 USE OF ENGLISH Complete the text by writing one dependent preposition in each gap.

The 21st century has seen a huge rise ¹ _____ the number of images we are exposed to, along with an apparent addiction ² _____ watching news events as they happen. Some might argue that there's nothing the matter ³ _____ this, but the existence ⁴ _____ today's sophisticated image-editing software makes it hard for people to tell the difference ⁵ _____ what's real and what's fake. Now experts have shared evidence ⁶ _____ the negative effect of this kind of technology. It seems that even when we're aware that some images we see are false, they can have a dramatic effect ⁷ _____ our behaviour. Worryingly, we have little control over the false memories that these images can create in us.

➔ Vocabulary Builder Nouns formed from phrasal verbs: page 111

- 8 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Do you agree to the statement?
Creating fake images is illegal.

Vloggers

I can understand an article about vloggers.

1 SPEAKING Look at the pictures. Can you guess what their jobs are? Do you think they earn a lot of money?

2 Match the verbs (1–6) with the noun phrases (a–f). And guess which job these activities are related to.

- | | |
|-----------------|--------------------------------------|
| 1 plan | a software to edit videos |
| 2 get | b what to film |
| 3 make | c more followers |
| 4 use | d short films with a camera or phone |
| 5 tag | e videos with web links for products |
| 6 reach out for | f permission to film |

3 Read the text and answer the questions.

In which paragraph (A–D) does the writer ...

- 1 give reasons for the popularity of vlogs?
- 2 provide an example that demonstrates how popular vloggers have become?
- 3 give an example of someone being dishonest?

Reading Strategy

Read the multiple-choice questions and all possible answers carefully.

Find the part of the text that each question refers to.

Read the answers again and choose the one that best matches the information in the text.

Check that the other answers are incorrect.

4 Read the Reading Strategy. Then read the first question in exercise 5 related to paragraph A. When you have chosen the correct answer (a, b, c or d), read the paragraph again and decide why the other options are wrong.

5 Read the text. For questions (2–4), circle the correct options (a–d).

- 1 There was a large police presence at a bookstore because
 - a fans of a famous writer were waiting to see him.
 - b someone very famous was causing excitement.
 - c the person who was coming was a pop sensation.
 - d thousands of people wanted to buy a book.
- 2 One of the common characteristics of vlogs is that followers can
 - a create relationships with other vlog followers.
 - b share their interest in vlogs created by media corporations.
 - c change the content of the vlogs they like.
 - d make their opinions on vloggers' work known.
- 3 Vloggers earn large sums of money by
 - a improving the quality of modern technology.
 - b talking about a product.
 - c influencing YouTube authorities.
 - d criticising products advertised by other vloggers.
- 4 The incident with Zoella's book
 - a lost her a lot of fans.
 - b suggested that the world of vlogging is changing.
 - c showed that she can write as well as a novelist.
 - d demonstrated that dreams can come true.

➡ Vocabulary Builder Media headlines: page 112

STARS OF THE vlogosphere

3.11

A Helicopters circled the sky above Piccadilly Circus as the police officers below struggled to control the thousands of fans on the streets outside the bookstore. Who were the thousands of fans waiting for? That latest pop sensation? No, a 'vlogger' – a video blogger.

B What makes vloggers so popular? Successful vloggers share some common characteristics. They are outgoing, quick-witted and spontaneous in front of their webcams. There is also a lot of interaction with the audience and feedback on their videos. This means vloggers can adapt the content of their videos to keep their viewers happy. It is material that is made by young people for young people without any intrusion from media corporations. What is more, thanks to the accessibility of modern technology, the vlogs can be watched anywhere at any time. All these ingredients have created a two-way relationship between vloggers and their subscribers, based on shared interests and trust that cannot be found between the providers and users of other media.

C However, it appears that those shared interests and that trust might become negatively affected by money. Some of the big-name vloggers can earn up to £20,000 for displaying an advertisement on their channel. They also earn a lot for mentioning or reviewing a product in a vlog. About 1,000 vloggers around the world earn at least £100,000 a year from their YouTube income. And profits are sometimes earned at the expense of honesty.

D So, will vlogs go the way of many TV programmes and films? Not according to the vloggers, who emphasise their creative independence over making money. However, Zoella, one of the few vloggers in the public eye in Britain, caused a scandal after publishing a book and claiming that it had always been her dream to write a novel. Shortly later, she had to admit that she had not written it alone and her name was just being used to sell it. Many media experts saw it as a sign that vlogging had lost its innocence and that large media corporations were taking control.

6 Read the text again. Are the sentences true or false? Write T or F. Correct the false sentences.

- 1 A vlogger could attract thousands of fans.
- 2 Most successful vloggers do not appreciate interaction with their audience.
- 3 Vloggers and their viewers are from the same age group.
- 4 The relationship between vloggers and viewers could be damaged by money.
- 5 Zoella's fans thought she was under the control of the media corporations.

7 VOCABULARY Match the highlighted nouns in the text with definitions (1–6).

Digital media

- 1 organisations that supply someone with what they want
- 2 the ability to reach or use something
- 3 the homepage for user's videos on YouTube
- 4 the ideas in a book, film, etc.
- 5 criticism, opinions, etc. that someone receives about their work
- 6 communication between two or more people

8 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- 1 Do people follow vloggers in your country?
- 2 Who are the most popular vloggers in your country? What makes them popular?
- 3 Why are the 'media lives' of some celebrities so short?

Presentation

I can discuss the link between technology and crime.

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- Have social media, and modern technology in general, created any new kinds of crime? If so, what are they?
- Have they created any new ways to fight crime? If so, what are they?

2 Read the news reports. In what two different ways did Facebook help to catch criminals? Which story does the photo belong with?

1 BURGLAR LEAVES HIS FACEBOOK PAGE ON VICTIM'S COMPUTER

MARTINSBURG – The popular online social networking site Facebook helped lead to a burglar's arrest after he stopped to check his account on the victim's computer, but forgot to log out before leaving her home with two diamond rings.

2 Fugitive caught after updating his status on Facebook

Maxi Sopo was living the dream of a fugitive abroad, kicking back on the beaches of Cancun by day, partying in the clubs by night. Then he did two things that are never a good idea when you're on the run from the authorities: he started posting Facebook updates about how much fun he was having – and he added a former Justice Department official to his list of Facebook friends.

3 3.12 Listen to a student doing the task below. Do you agree or disagree with his opinions? Does he mention any of your ideas from exercise 1?

Look at the news reports. Then talk for one minute about how social media can lead to crime and/or be used to fight crime. Think about:

- people posting untrue and/or threatening messages.
- people sharing information about crimes.
- criminals boasting online.

Speaking Strategy

- Avoid speaking in short, single sentences.
- Try to develop your statements with extra information, details and examples.
- Use some phrases to introduce them.

4 3.12 Read the Speaking Strategy. Then listen again. What example does the student give for each of the points (1–3) below? What phrase does he use to introduce it?

	Example	Phrase
1 Problems caused by social media
2 Sharing information to fight crimes
3 Criminals using social media unwisely

5 Work in pairs. Look at the task, news report and headline below. Choose two of the prompts each and make notes. Then work together to add details and examples to your notes.

Talk for about one minute about how mobile phones can lead to crime and/or be used to fight crime. Think about:

- victims of smartphone theft and/or mugging.
- phone-related fraud, scams, identity theft, etc.
- crimes and criminals captured on camera.
- using phones to report crime / call for help.

Caught on camera

A security firm has developed an app that will email victims of smartphone theft a photo of the person who has stolen their phone. The photo, known as a 'theftie', is taken when an incorrect passcode is entered, and is emailed to the phone's owner together with a map of the smartphone's location.

6 SPEAKING Take turns to do the task in exercise 5. Use your notes to talk about your two prompts.

Introducing examples and extra information

One example of that would be ...

So, for instance, ...

What I mean by that is ...

The kind of thing I'm talking about is ...

In other words, ...

Or to put it another way, ...

A table

I can summarise the information in tables.

- 1 SPEAKING Is the number of people using social networks increasing? Which social network do you think attracts the most users?

Active users of social networks worldwide in millions (Statista)

Social networks	January 2022	January 2023
Facebook	2.91	2.95
YouTube	2.56	2.51
Instagram	1.48	2.00
Tiktok	1.00	1.05

The table above shows the data for the number of people worldwide using social networks in January 2022 and 2023. In about 120–150 words, summarise the information in the table.

The table shows the number of users of four popular social networks around the world in January 2022 and 2023. In general, all four social media networks have seen an increase in users between 2022 and 2023. In January 2022, Facebook had the most active users with 2.91 million people. In contrast, Tiktok had the smallest number with just 1 million users. The numbers are similar in January 2023. Facebook still remains at the top with 2.95 million, followed by YouTube and Instagram, with Tiktok coming last. In comparison with 2022, the number of active users of Facebook and YouTube in 2023 has slightly risen. However, the number of Instagram users has considerably grown, from 1.48 million to 2.00 million.

- 2 Read the task and the report. Answer the questions.

- What information does the table give?
- How many social networks are mentioned?
- Which network had the largest number of active users in January 2022? Which had the smallest?
- Is there any information in the table you could add to the report?

Writing Strategy

- Paraphrase the question as an introduction to the summary, using synonyms where appropriate.
- Select and report on 3 or 4 main features; you don't need to include every detail in the table.
- Describe the figures with expressions like the largest number, the smallest number ... Make comparisons if possible.

- 3 Read the Writing Strategy. Did the writer follow all of the advice? Find and underline examples.

- 4 KEY PHRASES Look at the phrases below. Which are in the report?

Introducing the table

The table shows ...

The table presents / describes / gives information ...

Giving remarks

First, ...

Second, ...

In contrast, ...

Similarly, ...

- 5 VOCABULARY Combine one verb and one adverb from the list to complete each of the following sentences. Remember to put the verbs in the correct forms.

almost considerably suddenly slowly slightly

- The number of young vloggers has _____ for the last three months. Vlogging has become a trend.
- More and more people turn to social media. The number of traditional media users is _____.

- The number of old people using Instagram last year _____ compared to that in the previous year. I hardly see the difference.
- The cookery videos could attract so many viewers that the profit this month _____ that last December.

- 6 Read the task below. Write a report.

The table presents the data for the percentage of people in Viet Nam using social networks in May 2022 and May 2023. In about 120–150 words, summarise the information in the table by selecting and reporting the main features, and making comparisons where relevant.

The percentage of social media users in Viet Nam compared to the total population (Statcounter)

Social media	May 2022	May 2023
Facebook	62.3%	77.2%
YouTube	14.4%	5.2%

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions. What do the following famous people have in common? Match their names (1–3) with their famous ideas (a–c).

- | | |
|---------------------------|--|
| 1 Rene Descartes | a $x^n + y^n = z^n$ |
| 2 Johann Heinrich Lambert | b hyperbolic functions into trigonometry |
| 3 Pierre De Fermat | c The saying "I think, therefore I am" |

2 Read the text and match the paragraphs (A–C) with headings (1–3).

1. A challenge
2. Well-known mathematician
3. Different interests

3.13

A Pierre de Fermat was born on August 17 in 1601 in Beaumont-de-Lomagne, France. He was a famous French mathematician who is often called the founder of the modern theory of numbers. Fermat was one of the two leading mathematicians of the first half of the 17th century (the other was René Descart). ¹ ____ He was also regarded as the inventor of differential calculus, and a co-founder of the theory of probability.

B What strikes as a surprise is that Fermat never considered doing research in Mathematics his job. Although Fermat studied law when he was at college, he developed strong love for foreign languages, literature and mathematics. He read a lot of documents and taught himself in many fields. As early as 1629 Fermat began a lot of research on mathematical theories including algebra and geometry. ² ____ He served in the local parliament at Toulouse, becoming councillor in 1634. In 1638 he was named to the Criminal Court. Despite his busy work at the court, Fermat never stopped learning and doing mathematics. In 1679, he published Introduction to Loci in which he presented that the study of loci, or sets of points with certain characteristics, could be facilitated by the application of algebra to geometry through a coordinate system.

C The most interesting story about Fermat should be his last theorem, which is also known as Fermat's great theorem. It is a statement that there are no natural numbers x, y, z such that $x^n + y^n = z^n$, in which n is a natural number greater than 2. In 1636, Fermat, the distinguished mathematician, wrote in his copy of the Arithmetica that he had discovered a truly proof of this theorem, but the margin of the book was too small for him to write it down. ³ ____ No one could prove or disprove Fermat's last theorem. Not until 1993 could the English mathematician Andrew Wiles devise a proof of this theorem. ⁴ ____ Andrew Wiles had been interested in Fermat's last theorem since the age of ten. His years of searching for an answer finally became successful.

- A He then presented the proof in the journal Annals of Mathematics in 1995.
 B Fermat discovered the fundamental principle of analytic geometry.
 C In 1631 Fermat received the degree in law from the University of Orléans.
 D For centuries, so many mathematicians all over the world were puzzled by this statement

4 Check if the following information from the text is True or False. Write T or F.

- 1 Fermat was the only founder of theory of probability
- 2 Besides law, Fermat was interested in different fields.
- 3 Introduction to Loci published in 1679 was related to Fermat's work at the Criminal Court.
- 4 Fermat had never stated that he could provide a proof of his last theorem.
- 5 It took Andrew Wiles nearly ten years to search for the proof of Fermat's last theorem.

5 3.14 Listen to a small talk on lifelong learning and complete the text with appropriate information.

Lifelong learning is following ¹ ____ and developing particular skills which are necessary for one person's job or life. Lifelong learning can only be effective if the learner is self-motivated, ² ____ and focused. The learner should set his own goal on his own interests. He is also willing to gain more skills though it may take time. He is persistent enough ³ ____ his plans of leaning step by step. He is the one who decides his long journey. No one else can decide what he needs to improve, which course he has to take and ⁴ ____ for it. Lifelong learning is regarded as one of important characteristics that the employers nowadays look for. It is essential for the employees to seek ways to grow personally and ⁵ ____; this helps them to stand out in the job market. Employers are happy to have lifelong learners at work because they are likely to pick up skills at time, anywhere, train themselves in order to meet the work demands.

6 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the following question.
 Can you guess why Fermat never considered doing research his job?

Review Unit 7

Reading

- 1 Read the text. Four sentences have been removed. Match missing sentences (A–E) with gaps (1–4). There is one extra sentence.

Dying for a selfie

Most of us have taken a selfie at one time or another, be it a photo of ourselves in a beautiful place, during a performance by our favourite band, or on a memorable night out with friends. Even monarchs, prime ministers and presidents have been seen in the news grinning inanely at the screen of a smartphone. ¹ ____ In several cases, this action has had disastrous consequences.

Take, for example, the Spaniard who was killed by a bull while he was taking a selfie during the annual bull run in a village near his hometown. ² ____ Incidents such as these led to the death toll from selfie-related incidents reaching double figures for the first time in 2015, overtaking the number of victims of shark attacks. Most of the cases involve people taking selfies while posing with animals, or falling from high places.

Despite the risks, social media is full of pictures featuring near misses that could have been fatal under other circumstances. Under the caption 'Most dangerous selfie ever', a woman posing at a stadium can be seen narrowly avoiding being hit in the head by a baseball approaching her. ³ ____ What is even more worrying, however, is that the woman herself dares others to better the shot, seemingly overlooking the fact that by doing so, she is endangering the lives of her 'friends' as well.

In response to the increasing threat posed by the selfie, the authorities have started to take action. National parks, such as the Waterton Canyon in Denver, Colorado, have closed their gates to visitors who have been getting too close to the bears to get them in the photo. ⁴ ____ But if instructions like these are really necessary, then perhaps it is about time we asked ourselves which is more important, a 'like' or a life?

- A Or the Singaporean tourist who died when he fell from cliffs on the coast of Bali.
B The alternative to taking unnecessary risks is to use Photoshop to create outrageous pictures.
C The Russian Interior Ministry has launched a public education campaign advising selfie-takers against balancing on dangerous surfaces or posing with their pets, among other things.

- 4 According to recent study, what is wrong about the warnings against eating butter?

Speaking

Work in pairs. Discuss the following questions.

- 2 What makes a traditional diary still attractive to young people?

Writing

In about 120–150 words, summarise the information in the table below.

The number of schools in Viet Nam from 2019 to 2021

RECYCLE! Non-defining relative clauses

A non-defining relative clause gives us extra information about a person, thing, place, etc. The sentence still makes sense without the clause.
We listened to Dave Smith's speech, which was about students' rights.

We listened to Dave Smith's speech.

The relative pronoun which can refer to a whole clause.

Many high school students taught English to the children from the Shelters, which was part of the campaign 'Green Summer'.

- 5 Read the Recycle! box. Combine the following pairs of sentences using non-defining relative clauses.

- Tina decided to sign the petition for a better cycling road behind the campus. Tina does not know how to ride a bike.
- The collection for the local homeless centre early ended yesterday. Many people were regretful about it.
- London Fashion Week met with protests against fur clothing. London Fashion Week took place in September 2017.
- Citadel of the Ho Dynasty in Thanh Hoa, Viet Nam was recognised the UNESCO World Heritage Site in 2011. Citadel of the Ho Dynasty has an impressive arched gateway.

- 7 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Which issue in exercise 3 do you think is the most important in your local area? Discuss two ideas:
- What is the cause?
 - What action will you take?

Emphasis

I can use sentence structure to create emphasis.

- 1 Is there a problem with litter where you live? Read the opinions below. Who do you think should be responsible for reducing litter?

A load of rubbish?

One thing I can't stand is all the litter outside fast food restaurants. What they should do is employ extra staff to help clean up the streets. Rob K

The people that I blame are the teenagers – it's them who cause all the problems. The town where I live is full of youngsters, hanging around in gangs and leaving rubbish everywhere – it's a disgrace. Daniel

There's so much plastic packaging nowadays. All the government needs to do is force companies to use biodegradable or recyclable materials in their products and the problem will be solved. Bex

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Then find examples of each rule in exercise 1.

LEARN THIS! Emphasis (1)

- 1 We can emphasise key information in a sentence by:
a adding a clause with It is / was, etc. ... that ... at the start of the sentence.

Joe bought a tablet last weekend.

→ It was Joe who bought a tablet last weekend.

→ It was a tablet that Joe bought last weekend.

→ It was last weekend that Joe bought a tablet.

We often use this structure to make a contrast:

It was a tablet that Joe bought, not a smartphone.

- b adding a clause with What.

Kate lost her debit card.

→ What Kate lost was her debit card.

→ What Kate did was lose her debit card.

→ What happened was that Kate lost her debit card.

- 2 We can use All (that) in the same way as What. It means 'the only thing.'

I just need some money.

→ All (that) I need is some money.

→ They only needed to ask.

→ All (that) they needed to do was ask.

- 3 Rewrite the sentences (1–7) to make a contrast. Begin with It and emphasise the underlined words.

1 Mia isn't coming shopping with us. Lara is.

It's Lara who's coming with us, not Mia.

2 I haven't got a credit card. I've got a debit card.

3 The first supermarket opened in 1916. It wasn't 1920.

4 Her mum doesn't work in a store. Her aunt does.

5 Many people don't want quality. They want low prices.

6 The sales start on Friday. They don't start today.

7 I blame teenagers for the litter. I don't blame the restaurants.

LEARN THIS! Emphasis (2)

We can start a sentence with a phrase that describes the person, thing, or place that we want to emphasise.

The person (that) you need to speak to is Tom.

One thing (that) I really hate is consumerism.

A place (that) I'd really like to visit is Norway.

- 4 Read the Learn this! box. Then find two examples in exercise 1. How would the sentences read without the emphatic structure?

- 5 Rewrite the sentences (1–6). Begin with the words in brackets and emphasise the underlined words.

1 Store loyalty cards have really caught on. (One idea ...)

2 It's the directors of companies who should change. (The people ...)

3 Many European firms are investing in Asia. (One place ...)

4 Green drives most consumerism. (The thing ...)

5 Plastic packaging creates most waste. (The thing ...)

6 Self-service stores first opened in the USA. (The country ...)

- 6 Complete the text with the words below. Use each word once.

all it's one that thing what where

The ¹ _____ that annoys me most is the litter. Clearly ² _____ that some people care about is convenience, not the environment. So ³ _____ the government needs to do is prosecute those involved in anti-social behaviour. But ⁴ _____ the businesses themselves that also need to take more responsibility – for example, the place ⁵ _____ I usually shop has installed a security camera to deter people from dropping rubbish outside. And ⁶ _____ thing they've tried successfully in some places is putting up lifesize cardboard police officers. It seems all ⁷ _____ some people need is a gentle reminder to act responsibly.

- 7 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Think of different ways to complete each sentence. Then compare your ideas with other pairs'.

1 The places in my town that have the most litter are ...

2 All we need to do to reduce litter is ...

Hashtag activism

I can use discourse markers to help predict what will be said next.

- 1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Look at the slogans. What are they about?

#occupywallstreet

#blacklivesmatter

#anti-war

#climatesummit

➔ Vocabulary Builder Prefixes: page 112

- 2 Read the text. Is it generally in favour of or against online campaigns?

Hashtag activism – worth clicking on?

Platforms like Facebook and Twitter are being used more and more to raise awareness of social issues and to campaign for good causes. There have been several examples of successful campaigns in recent years. For instance, the #IceBucketChallenge proved a viral success in raising awareness and funds for ALS, a disease that progressively paralyses the body. Not only did people all over the world post videos of themselves tipping a bucket of iced water over their heads, but they also nominated other people to do the challenge, as well as donating to the Association.

It is not always clear how effective many of these social media campaigns actually are. Critics claim that 'hashtagging' a cause is more about copying the crowd than showing true commitment. They say that clicking on a hashtag trend is easy and doesn't initiate a real desire for change. Though there may be some truth in this, raising awareness is surely the first step to a successful campaign.

Listening Strategy

As you listen, pay special attention to discourse markers (linking phrases), which connect pieces of information to each other. For example, however introduces a contrast, whereas for instance introduces an example.

- 3 KEY PHRASES Read the Listening Strategy. Then, add the phrases below to complete the examples.

as I was saying even so for instance incidentally nevertheless still

Discourse markers

An example / more detail: you know ... / ¹ _____

PRONUNCIATION Rise-fall intonation pattern

We use the rise-fall intonation when the first part of our utterance is an unfinished thought, an introductory phrase, a series of words or choices. The pitch rises for the first part and falls at the end of the utterance.

When I finished high school, I got a job.

As a matter of fact, I do know where he lives.

I need rice, beans, lettuce, and sugar.

Do you want to stay home or go to the movies?

- A feels strongly that fighting for a cause online is largely ineffective.
B has found that donations made to online campaigns are not as high as those achieved by other methods.
C is enthusiastic about learning about global issues through social media.

- 8 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

Do you love to take part in online campaigns in social media? Why? / Why not?

Mixed conditionals

I can use mixed conditionals.

- 1 Read the text. Are there any similar charities or events in your country?

In 2015, the charity Comic Relief celebrated its 30th anniversary. They started 'Red Nose Day', a day when people across the UK buy red noses and all of the money from this goes towards Comic Relief. The money raised by Comic Relief helps people living in difficult conditions in the UK and around the world, and it's estimated that over 50 million people would be worse off today if the charity hadn't been set up. The number of children attending primary school in Africa might not have increased by 60 million if the charity didn't exist. In 2015, the British public donated a staggering £78.1 million, bringing the total raised by Comic Relief in its thirty-year history to over £1 billion. But it couldn't have achieved all this if it didn't have the support of the comedians who take part and inspire the public to give so generously.

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Then find examples of mixed conditionals in exercise 1.

LEARN THIS! Mixed conditionals

Mixed conditionals are a mixture of second and third conditional sentences. They occur when the if clause and main clause refer to different times (past and present).

(past) If he'd read the map, (present) we wouldn't be lost.

(present) If he could drive, (past) he'd have got the job.

- 3 Match the two halves of the mixed conditional sentences.

- 1 If he'd gone to bed earlier,
- 2 If it wasn't so cold,
- 3 If I were him,
- 4 If you hadn't been so rude,
- 5 If they'd remembered the address,
- a she wouldn't be angry.
- b he wouldn't be so tired.
- c they'd be here by now.
- d we might have gone for a run.
- e I wouldn't have made that decision.

- 4 Complete the dialogue. Use the verbs in their correct form to make mixed conditional sentences.

If I'd been born a boy instead, I think I'd ...

Verb patterns

I am aware of and can use different verb patterns.

- 1 Read the text. How can a social media campaign help the business?

Nowadays, social media can be used for marketing effort known as a social media campaign. In a campaign, businessmen determine what their goal is. Common goals in business may include having users give feedback, getting customers to have more concern for the brand or making sales figures increase. The businessmen would prefer more audience to access their products through suitable media platforms. Of course many free social media marketing apps have been made to track shares, replies, likes and keywords related to a brand. Moreover, certain media services are built to combine with social media accounts to see who is seeing media posts and how they are responding. These tools get users to interact with social media posts, ask questions, provide reviews, and even enter contests. Positive interaction, personal attention and prizes are quite important in a campaign because they get the audience to be more involved in the campaign. And this, in turn, helps businessmen a lot in adjusting their business strategies.

- 2 Read the Learn this! box. Then find examples of rules (1–3) in the text.

LEARN THIS! Verb + object + infinitive

He was made to pay back the stolen money.
- 3 We can use I'd prefer + object + infinitive with to to talk about preferences.
The government would prefer citizens to use public transport more often.

A-tech compliments

Wilson To was beginning his final year at school when he decided to get a school Facebook page started. Nothing unusual about that, you might think, but Wilson's motivation for setting up the page wasn't to discover the latest school gossip. He believed that Facebook could help him take on a problem that was making life difficult for a few schoolmates: bullying.

- Without mentioning his plans to his friends, Wilson launched 'A-tech compliments', a Facebook page which invited students to send in anonymous compliments about each other, their teachers and their school. At first, Wilson wasn't expecting much of a response and he monitored messages closely in case unpleasant comments or racism appeared. However, Wilson needn't have worried. 'A-tech compliments' was an instant success and quickly had five hundred regular followers, all of them being positive. It seems that the students were just waiting for the opportunity to say nice things about each other and their school!

- Although everybody wanted to know who had thought up this great idea, Wilson kept his identity secret until the end of the school year, when the school intercom asked the creator of the Facebook page to reveal himself. Wilson stepped forward to receive the applause and thanks of the whole school. He was also given one last job to do: train a new administrator so the page could continue after Wilson stepped down. Today, the idea has also spread to high schools across the country.

- 3 Read the Reading Strategy. Then look at the question below. Which text matches with it? What is the information in the text that helps you answer it?

Who started their project because they had already identified a need?

- 4 Match two texts with questions (1–5) below. Each of the texts can match more than one question.

Who ...

- 1 offered some training to others?
- 2 was given an idea by someone else?
- 3 published something?
- 4 worked in the most dangerous conditions?
- 5 worked anonymously?

- 5 Decide if the statements (1–5) are true (T), false (F), or the information is not given (NG).

- 1 Wilson To was worried that his Facebook page would attract the wrong type of comments.
- 2 Wilson has left the school, but continues with his job as administrator of the school page.
- 3 Wilson didn't let anyone know he was the creator of the page because he was too modest.
- 4 Rene Silva got the funding for his newspaper from local residents.
- 5 Rene's reporting has had a big impact outside the favela.

- 6 VOCABULARY Match the underlined words with the appropriate form of the highlighted words or phrases in the article.

VOICE OF THE COMMUNITY

- 20 A teacher spotted Rene Silva's talent for writing when he was just eleven and encouraged him to set up a community newspaper. Rene accepted the challenge and took on publishing Voz da Comunidade (Voice of the Community) and he soon realised that the monthly newspaper could help his neighbourhood. Rene lives on the edge of Rio de Janeiro in a favela, a poor town that used to be controlled by armed drug gangs. Rene's newspaper quickly became a vehicle for protest about the poor conditions in the favela and gave a voice to local residents who were campaigning to make the
- 25 community a safer and better place to live.

But one Saturday morning, Voz da Comunidade was transformed from a small local newspaper into Brazil's most popular source of information. The government had decided to force the drug dealers out of the favela and had sent soldiers onto the streets. Journalists from the mainstream media waited outside the favela for news, but Rene and his team of teenage reporters were in the middle of the action. Using their mobile phones to film and take photos, the Voz da Comunidade

- 30 Twitter account suddenly had thousands more followers than usual and Rene's reporting was praised by the mainstream media. More importantly, it started a debate about how the government should help the inhabitants of Brazil's hundreds of favelas. Rene and the Voz da Comunidade brought positive change to the community.

A report

I can write a report about a local issue.

Introduction

The aim of this report is to assess the plan to ban traffic from the town centre. I have interviewed a number of local people and visitors, and my conclusion and recommendation take their views into account.

Advantages

Most visitors were of the opinion that the town centre would be a quieter and more pleasant place to spend time if there were no traffic. An added benefit mentioned was a reduction in air pollution. Finally, it was thought that the roads would be safer for cyclists.

Disadvantages

According to some local shopkeepers, banning cars from the centre would damage trade as shoppers would have to park some distance away and carry heavy shopping to their cars. What is more, visitors would also have to park outside the town and this might discourage them from paying a visit.

Conclusion

Although opinion seems to be divided on the desirability of the scheme, people expressing opposition to the proposal were in a minority. I would suggest that the council press ahead with its plan as it will improve the quality of life of both residents and visitors.

- 1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Think of two advantages and two disadvantages of banning traffic from town centres.

Sophia the Robot

1 SPEAKING Work in pairs. Discuss the questions.

- When do you think the first humanoid robot appeared in Viet Nam?
- To what extent do you think this robot resembles a human?

2 Read the text. Check your answers in exercise 1. What do you find most impressive about Sophia?

Humanoid robots, eminent characters in science fiction novels and sci-fi films, are becoming a reality. Sophia, as an example, was first activated on Valentine's Day in 2016. One month later, she had her premiere in Texas, USA and has made multiple public appearances around the world since then. At one such event, Sophia was granted Saudi Arabian citizenship in October 2017 and even became the first Innovation Champion of the United Nations Development Programme later that year. During Sophia's trip to Viet Nam in 2018, she addressed the Industry 4.0 Summit and Expo.

Sophia the Robot is the latest humanoid robot created by a Hong Kong-based company whose combined efforts in AI research, engineering and design have given birth to robots. Undoubtedly, Sophia together with other Hanson robots represents the rapid advancement in the field of robotics and artificial intelligence. She has been designed to assist humans in healthcare, customer support and education.

Sophia's physical appearance is inspired by both the famous actress Audrey Hepburn and the creator's wife. She has cameras for eyes and microphones for ears, allowing her to see and hear like a human. But what makes her more lifelike than other robots is the patented artificial skin called Frubber®, which has the feel and flexibility of human skin.

Sophia amazes the world with her ability to communicate naturally. The Sophia Intelligence Collective, which is a combination of AI and human input, and other sophisticated perception techniques enable Sophia to recognise human faces and identify human emotions and gestures. Equipped with machine learning algorithms, Sophia can understand human speech and interact with people. Questions and jokes are pieces of cake to her whereas sarcasm is intelligible. What distinguishes Sophia from other humanoid robots is her social behaviour, i.e. her facial emotions, hand movements and conversation skills, and most importantly, her learning capability. Sophia is programmed to learn from experiences and adapt to new situations.

3 Read the text again. Are the sentences true or false? Write T or F. Correct the false sentences.

- Sophia has been introduced at different places around the world.

A After twenty years of research, scientists have finally succeeded in developing a vaccine for dengue, a viral disease found in tropical areas. The illness causes high fever and severe joint pain, and in some cases, it can be fatal. According to the World Health Organisation, each year between 50 and 100 million people develop dengue, which is transmitted to humans by mosquitoes. The commercialised vaccine can protect children in Asia and Latin America against the virus.

B Artificial limbs have been around since ancient times, but no prosthetic has been as lifelike as the Bebionic small hand. The appliance not only looks like a hand, but it also works like one. Electrical impulses triggered by the user's muscle movements connect to individual motors and powerful microprocessors in each finger, causing it to move. Specifically aimed at women and teenagers, the artificial hand enables the user to perform a range of activities previously unmanageable, such as using cutlery and riding a bike.

C Good news for migraine patients – a special device is available. The battery-driven headband sits across the forehead and over the ears and has a self-adhesive electrode, which helps it stay in place. This electrode applies an electric current to the skin and tissue below the headband stimulating the nerves which are said to trigger the headaches. By wearing the headband for the recommended twenty minutes per day, users are said to experience significantly fewer migraines.

It was believed by many people until the 19th century that tomatoes were poisonous.
It is now known that they are not.
- Alternatively we use a passive construction with an infinitive:

Tense changes

- When we report somebody's words rather than quoting them directly, we usually change the tense of any verbs.
'I'm tired,' she said. → She said that she was tired.

The normal pattern of tense changes in reported speech is:

Direct speech	→ Reported speech
present simple	→ past simple present continuous	→ past continuous past simple	→ past perfect simple present perfect simple	→ past perfect simple present perfect continuous	→ past perfect continuous past continuous	→ past perfect continuous will	→ would may / might	→ might must	→ must / had to can	→ could

- We do not normally change the tense when
 - a the reporting verb is present, future or present perfect.
'I prefer playing basketball.'
→ She says she prefers playing basketball.
→ She'll say she prefers playing basketball.
→ She's said she prefers playing basketball.

- b we are reporting a past perfect verb, would, could, should or had better.
'We should leave.'
→ She said that we should leave.

- Many modal verbs are usually unchanged after past reporting verbs.
'I might be late.'
→ He said that he might be late.
- We often omit the word that from the beginning of the reported speech clause.
They said it was too expensive.
- There are often changes in words which refer to the people, time or place. These are dictated more by logic than by rules.
'I'll be here tomorrow,' she said.
→ She says she'll be here tomorrow.
(reported on the same day, in the same place)
→ She says she'll be there tomorrow.
(reported on the same day, in a different place)
→ She said she'd be there the next day.
(reported later, in a different place)
- However, these time expressions frequently change in the following way:

Direct speech	→ Reported speech
today	→ that day
tonight	→ that night
tomorrow	→ the next / following day
next week	→ the next / following week ago	→ before
last week / month	→ the previous week / month the week / month before

- When we report questions, we use affirmative word order and verb forms after the question word.

- To report a yes / no question (one that has no question word) we use whether or if.

'Is it snowing?' she asked.

→ She asked if it was snowing.

→ She asked me whether I lived in Bristol.

- We do not include question tags in reported questions.

'You're Mia's friend, aren't you?' he asked.

- When we report short answers, we use the auxiliary or modal verb from the short answer.

'Do you know the time?' 'I don't.'

→ He asked me if I knew the time and I said I didn't.

1 Complete the second sentence so that it has a similar meaning to the first sentence. Use the words given.

say and tell

- The object of the verb say is always what was said. It is often a clause.

'It's late,' said Tom.

She said she was thirsty.

- If we want to mention the person who is addressed, we must use the preposition to.

'I'm going now,' she said to her friend.

7.4 Other reporting structures

We can use other structures when we report offers, promises, requests, commands, suggestions, etc.

- verb + infinitive with to agree, offer, promise, refuse, threaten

To make the infinitive negative, we add not before to.

Some nouns are followed by certain prepositions, called dependent prepositions, e.g. addition to, demand for, increase in, obsession with.

The choice of preposition depends on the noun and its specific use and meaning.

When a verb follows a preposition, we use the -ing form.
She had no interest in listening to what I was saying.

1 Complete the sentences with in, for, on, to or with.

Unit 8

8.1 Emphasis

- We can make a sentence more emphatic by adding an extra clause to highlight key information.

Normal	Emphatic
You wanted to go to the beach.	It was you (that / who) wanted to go to the beach.
I'd like to meet Lady Gaga.	The person I'd like to meet is Lady Gaga.
He really wants to visit China.	A place (that) he really wants to visit is China.
I'll never understand baseball.	One thing I'll never understand is baseball.
She just walked the second half of the race.	All she did was (to) walk the second half of the race.
The fire alarm went off.	What happened was (that) the fire alarm went off.

- We often use It is / was ... to make a contrast.
Sal finished the biscuits. I didn't.
→ It was Sal who finished the biscuits, not me.
- After All (I) did was ... or What (I) did was ..., we use an infinitive with or without to.
What I did was (to) call the police.
However, after All that happened was ... or What happened was ..., we need a subject and a verb. We can put that before the subject.
All that happened was (that) they decided not to go to the café.
- Nominal clauses starting with that can function as the subject of a sentence.
It upsets me that we're no longer friends.
A that-clause can begin a sentence, but we usually rephrase it with The fact that ....
~~That we're no longer friends upsets me.~~ X
The fact that we're no longer friends upsets me.

1 Rewrite the sentences with an extra clause at the start for emphasis. Begin with the words in brackets.

English is my favourite subject. (It's English ...)

It's English that's my favourite subject.

1 The girls' team won the quiz. (It was ...)

2 My parents stopped me from going out. (What happened ...)

3 Frank cycled to the river. (What Frank ...)

4 She gave them her opinion, that's all. (All she ...)

5 The Egyptians built the Pyramids. (It was ...)

6 We just need five more minutes. (All we ...)

2 Rewrite the sentences, emphasising the underlined words. Begin with the phrases below.

One idea One person One thing The country
The film The food

1 I can't stand having a cold.

2 Neil will definitely know the answer.

3 I'm really interested in going to Thailand.

4 I really enjoyed The Hunger Games.

5 She prefers Italian to Chinese.

6 He suggested having a barbecue at his house.

8.2 Mixed conditionals

- Mixed conditionals are a mixture of second and third conditionals and refer to hypothetical situations. Remember that second conditionals refer to the present or future, and third conditionals refer to the past. Mixed conditionals occur when the time reference in the if clause is different from the main clause.

If I had eaten breakfast, I wouldn't be hungry now!

past (3rd conditional) present (2nd conditional)

If I hadn't spent all my money, I'd come with you for pizza.

past (3rd conditional) future (2nd conditional)

If I could drive, I would have taken you to the station.

present (2nd conditional) past (3rd conditional)

- The choice of verb forms in mixed conditionals depends on the time reference.

- If we are referring to the past in the if clause, we use the past perfect (simple or continuous) as we would in a third conditional; if we are referring to the present in the if clause, we use the past simple as we would in the second conditional.

- Similarly, if we are referring to the past in the main clause, we use would have + past participle, as in a third conditional; if we are referring to the present or future in the main clause, we use would + infinitive, as in a second conditional.

Past regrets

- To talk about past situations that we would like to have happened differently, we use the following structures with the past perfect:

I (really) wish ... If only ...

I'd much rather ... I'd prefer it ...

1 Match the two halves of the sentences. Complete the second half with the correct form of the verb in brackets.

- 1 If I knew her phone number,
- 2 If you hadn't read the instructions,
- 3 He might have seen the sign
- 4 I'd never have believed you
- 5 If there was an ice rink in town,
- 6 She couldn't have become a vet
- a we _____ (go) there this evening.
- b if he _____ (have) better eyesight.
- c if you _____ (not be) my best friend.
- d I _____ (call) her now.
- e if she _____ (not love) animals.
- f you _____ (not know) how to use the equipment.

2 Rewrite each pair of sentences as a mixed conditional sentence.

We missed the bus. That's why we're late.
If we hadn't missed the bus, we wouldn't be late.

- 1 He doesn't like football. That's why he didn't watch the game.

- 2 It snowed heavily last night. That's why the roads are closed.

- 3 She forgot to feed the dog. That's why she has to go home.

- 5 They cooked lunch. That's why the kitchen is untidy.

- 6 You were late for class again. That's why your teacher is annoyed.

- 7 She's at the theatre. That's why she didn't answer her phone.

3 Use the words in brackets to write a sentence expressing a past regret about the statements.

I regret the fact that ...
 I didn't study for the test. (wish)
I really wish I'd studied for the test.

- 1 you told my brother about the surprise party. (rather)
